HEAR THOSE HAPPY VOICES

their cues from Joan, the boys give out with some good, round "ah's." Practice paid off when their Grade 3 Cloverdale School Choir went in to gain a second-place mark of 165, tying with Monterey School in a class of eight. (See Page 3.)

Margot Fonteyn in Jail—Hostage for Husband?

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Dame Margot Fonteyn, world-famed British ballerina, was held incommunicado in the city jail today on orders of District Attorney Francisco Alvarado.

Authorities planned to question her about reports linking her and her husband to an alleged plot to overthrow the Panamanian government.

Family sources said Miss Fonteyn, wife of Roberto Arias, former Panamanian ambassador to Britain, was being held hostage for her husband, whose exact whereabouts are unknown.

Members of the Arias family, a rich and powerful part of Panama's life, managed to get permission to pass in food.

clothing and other necessities to Dame Margot. Until then, she had been held under the same rules that apply to any common criminal.

Under Panamanian law, a person may be held incommunicado for 24 hours pending interrogation on orders from the district attorney.

Dame Margot, 39-year-old star of Britain's Royal Ballet, was taken into custody Monday by secret police chief Hector Valdez. She was held for a while in his home and then taken to the city jail.

In London, the foreign office said it had not received a report from the British ambassador in Panama. The British government is expected to intervene on Miss Fonteyn's behalf, however, for her British citizenship was not affected by her marriage to a Panamanian.

The dancer's husband has been charged with plotting against the government on the basis of reports that he fished up a cache of arms from the Pacific Ocean near the entrance to the Panama Canal and smuggled the weapons into Panama.

In Havana, Panamanian ambassador Alberto de Obarrio said that Arias had been a frequent traveller between the Cuban capital and the western province of Pinar del Rio, where Panamanian refugees have been reported planning an attempt to invade their homeland.

Alvarado said Monday that charges also have been filed against Dame Margot, but he refused to reveal their nature.

The arms cargo is believed to have been raised by the Arias' fishing launch Nola and turned over to the shrimp boat Elaine, which landed Sunday night near the Rio Hato airstrip.

Dame Margot had sailed with her husband in the Nola last Tuesday. It docked Monday in Balboa with the ballerina alone except for Aquilado Darkins, a Panamanian crewman.

OUT AGAIN

U.S. officials have again ordered deportation of one-time Communist William Heikkila, who was returned last year after public outcry at his sudden seizure in San Francisco and forced flight to native Finland with stopover in Vancouver jail.

PM Pledges 'Fair Deal' For Nfld.

OTTAWA (CP)—The financial position of Newfoundland will be given every consideration in a spirit of fairness and equity, when present commitments to all provinces run out in 1962, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday night.

He said in a national television address that he is sorry there has been some misunderstanding between the federal and Newfoundland governments over the extent of special financial assistance to the province.

This was a reference to the federal government's decision, announced last month by Mr. Diefenbaker, that these special payments under the terms of Newfoundland's union with Canada will end March 31, 1962.

Liberal Premier Smallwood has termed this a "betrayal" of his province and Lester B. Pearson, national Liberal leader, has called it a breach of the spirit of the terms of union.

CHURCHILL TO RETURN IN NEXT U.K. ELECTION

WOODFORD, Eng. (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill broke a two-year public silence Monday night and told the West it must be "patient and firm" in East-West negotiations and "make allowances for justifiable Russian fears."

The 85-year-old veteran of British politics also announced his intention to run again for Parliament in the next general election.

Tears filled Churchill's eyes and his voice broke at the thunderous burst of applause that greeted his announcement. He had saved the news until near the end of his 25-minute speech at a meeting in his constituency.

Churchill has represented Woodford, outside London, for 35 of his nearly 60 years in Parliament.

New-Type Planes Now Considred

Processing of Pacific Western Airlines Ltd. application for a franchise on the Vancouver Island-Mainland runs now operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines has been delayed at the request of PWA.

Paul Davoud, chairman of the Air Transport Board, made the statement here today in an interview at which Duncan D. McLaren, executive vice-president of PWA, was also present.

Mr. Davoud, who was appointed air board chairman in February, said work had begun on the processing of the PWA application when the company formally requested a delay to make new submissions.

NEW PLANES

Mr. McLaren explained that his company is considering new aircraft for its western operations, and would need time to re-evaluate their application in terms of operational cost.

He said PWA is actively interested in two types of turbo-prop aircraft; the Fairchild "Friendship" and the Handley Page "Dart Herald."

VISCOUNT-TYPE

Both are powered by the same type of engines used in Viscounts.

Mr. McLaren said his company's interest in these aircraft was based on a need to standardize equipment used in all B.C. and Alberta operations, for economic and service reasons.

Both Mr. Davoud and Mr. McLaren felt that vertical take-off aircraft would eventually be used on the Victoria-Vancouver run, but "not soon."

"Every five years someone predicts economical use of vertical take-off planes," Mr. Davoud said. "No doubt the day will come. But I don't think it is feasible now on a seat-per-mile basis."

Mr. McLaren said it would be three to four months before PWA is ready to re-submit its application.

Both planes being considered by his company are in the 40-passenger capacity.

MOB AT RUINS

'Can't See' Complains Margaret

ROME (Reuters)—Princess Margaret several times complained "I can't see" when reporters and photographers surged round her at Ostia Antica, the ruins of the ancient port of Rome, today.

Press attache, C. T. Isolani, climbed a flight of steps to appeal for calm.

Italian detectives repeatedly shouted "basta, basta" (enough) and "via, via" (get out of the way) to photographers.

When she drove out of the British Embassy grounds on the sightseeing trip police had to hold back a crowd of several hundred who pressed forward yelling "Viva Margherita."

The Queen Mother and Margaret arrived here by an RAF jet Monday night.

Italian newspapers today praised the charm and good humor with which the Royal visitors endured the weather conditions at the welcoming ceremony at the airport.

Move Starts Into New Gov't House

Secretariat office of Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross was being moved into new Government House today, but the rest of the mansion is not ready for occupancy.

The office, which has been located in an adjoining building since the fire which destroyed Government House in 1957, is located on the main floor near the main entrance.

Telephone switchboard was also to go into operation today but it was not definite when the lieutenant-governor would take up residence. He may not move from his Empress Hotel suite until next week.

Carpenters are hurrying the vice-regal residence to completion and the servants' quarters are now ready. Trucks have been delivering furniture, rugs and draperies. The kitchen is complete. A new feature, an elevator, is in operation.

"VIVIDLY MODERN"

Although no inspection of the premises has yet been permitted, it is understood the wall decor in the new Government House is "vividly modern."

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant has not announced a completion date, nor set a formal opening for the building, which is now estimated to cost about $1,500,000.

When it is completed, the structure will be turned over to the provincial secretary's department for maintenance.

Slaughter Process 'Barbarous'

OTTAWA (CP)—The Toronto Humane Society today described the process of preparing animals for ritual killing within the Jewish faith as barbarous, disgraceful and prompted by considerations of dollar and cents.

"Canadians will not tolerate cruelty by a section of its population, even on pseudo-religious grounds," said a society statement read before the Commons agriculture committee.

The society said it will press "with all the emphasis at our command" that humane treatment prior to slaughter be made mandatory by legislation.

While disavowing anti-Semitism, the society's statement strongly criticized the Canadian Jewish Congress for an earlier presentation in which the congress said that the preparation of an animal for slaughter has no religious significance, and is therefore the responsibility only of the abattoir operator.

Talk Can Cure Nervous Ills

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic
and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

My awareness of the part the emotions play in physical illness began long before I received my medical degree. It started in the days when I was riding around with my doctor-father as he made his calls.

Because I was mature for my age and he was a born teacher, I quickly learned much about the philosophy and idealism of the practice of medicine. Dad was one of those old-time family doctors whom people loved because he became their friend as well as their physician. He was the sort of man who thought nothing of getting up in the middle of the night and fighting his way through a tropical hurricane in order to treat some woman who was too poor ever to be able to pay him a fee.

When I started practice, I soon saw that my main interest was going to be in the nervous, mental and spiritual problems of my patients.

In the last 30 years, I have become almost a psychiatrist. I have had to, because at least a third of my patients need much reassurance, they need hope and cheer and understanding of their illness, and they need encouragement, so that they can pick themselves up and carry on again.

Learned From Patients, Not Books

I might note that I have learned most of the psychiatry I know from my patients and not from books. I have kept listening to what the patients tell me of their worries and fears and anxieties. Without any preconceived or Freudian ideas I asked people what they thought and feared, and what they told me I recorded and studied.

I found that even the man who comes with a cancer or a bad heart often needs encouragement and reassurance and instruction in living far more than he needs medicine or an operation. Often the woman with silent (symptomatic) gallstones or a fibroid on her womb needs only to talk out with me her sorrow over a mentally retarded daughter, or a delinquent son, or an alcoholic husband.

Early I found I had to become something of a psychiatrist if I was ever to help those hundreds of people who came to me, feeling that they had been stopped short of good health, success, or happiness by some mental or psychic handicap, the exact nature of which was not clear to them.

Many of these people felt that their failure to find contentment had been due to bad luck; they said the breaks had been against them, but some ROVIGO, Italy—Several seals loped up a stairway of an apartment in this north Italian town Monday and dived happily into a tank where a woman was washing clothes.

The woman fainted.

A giraffe was lassoed near a church in the nearby village of Borsea. Another giraffe and two zebras were cornered at neighboring Orignano.

A herd of Indian goats, a South American guan bird and a llama tied up traffic along a highway outside Rovigo.

The animals all had made a break when a circus trailer truck overturned.

"Cancellation. 'With moderation. 'Prevents vexation.'"

MONTREAL — Zsa Zsa Gabor Monday set Montreal newspaper reporters straight on the Gabor story.

Arriving by air from New York to model a $25,000 chinchilla coat at a fashion show, she said:

"Darlings, I just want you to get one thing straight. The legend you read about and the real me are two different people. As one of my husbands once said, 'I'm such a simple, natural human being that I appear to be complicated.'"

"For one thing I do not hate other women—unless they go after my men. Furthermore, I'm not a gold-digger, just a hard-working girl who has to support herself. "All I want is a good, intelligent, wonderful man who can pay my food bills—not a millionaire."

FISHERMEN PLUG LEAK, SAVE BOAT IN STRAIT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four crew members worked successfully early today to save their leaking fishboat in Hecate Strait, 460 miles northwest of here.

RCAF rescue co-ordination officials said the Buccaneer IV, a 39-foot fishboat owned by Canadian Fishing Company, called for help when the craft started taking water.

The Fleetwing II was dispatched from the same company but before it could arrive, the Buccaneer's crew reported they had found the leak, plugged it and were proceeding on course.

Atrocity Raids Protest in Nepal

KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI) — A group of high Nepalese citizens accused Communist China today of invading this Himalayan mountain kingdom and "raiding, looting and torturing" Nepalese citizens.

They threatened to take action themselves to stop Chinese Communist "atrocities" if the government did not act.

Sherpa tribesmen who brought the accusation to Katmandu said the Communists had shot and killed "thousands" of Nepalese.

The charges were made by G. N. Vidya, general secretary of the Himalayan Society, a powerful organization of Nepalese Sherpas, in a memorandum to King Mahendra. The note was signed by 511 Sherpas.

Vidya made public the charges shortly after a Katmandu newspaper said the Red army raided a village 20 miles inside Nepal's border in a search for anti-Communist Tibetans. The government did not deny the report.

The memorandum accused the Chinese of raiding and looting the Nepalese village of Gyabra at the foot of Mount Everest. Gyabra is 20 miles inside the border.

UNEMPLOYMENT

there were 795,547 persons registered for work with the National Employment Service.

This was a rise from 791,210 a month earlier but a drop from 866,588 in the previous March.

USE DIFFERENT METHODS

There was no official explanation for the opposite trends in the unemployment estimates. The two sets of figures are obtained by different methods.

The report said labor supplies, though still excessive in most areas, were less plentiful than last spring, and in some areas of British Columbia shortages of skilled loggers were reported.

PRAIRIES SHOW INCREASE

In the Prairie region, the March survey showed 983,000 persons at work, up 8,000 from the previous month and 40,000 from the year before.

British Columbia showed a one-month boost of 8,000 to 511,000, which was up 24,000 over the year.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain.

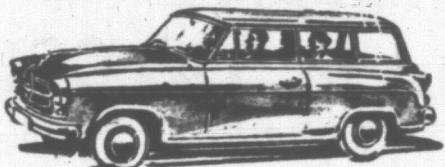

Toronto, Ont. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished quickly and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful typically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only $1.25 for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, the sinus area, where it shrinks or purchase price will be refunded.

'Blame Parents' For Car Nuisance

Greater Victoria School Board Monday endorsed a request for parking restrictions on Armstrong Avenue after nine residents complained that Oak Bay High School students were turning it into a "glorified parking lot and drag strip."

Mrs. H. L. Woolson, 1743 Armstrong, told the board that children living on the street were "in constant danger" and adults were subjected to "noise, confusion and bad language" by car-owning students who raced up and down the street.

The board also was told that the students choke the street with parked cars and litter it with "garbage" during the lunch hour.

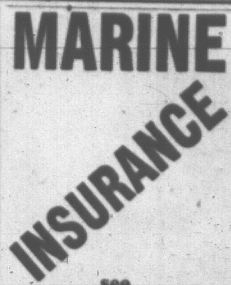

Trustee Kenneth Leeming said improper driving by students was a matter for Oak Bay police, not the school board.

Trustee R. H. Reeve said the school board had no power to construct a parking lot for the students on school property.

Both Mr. Reeve and Trustee A. H. Wilson criticized parents for allowing students to take cars to school.

The board turned the problem over to a committee for further study.

Liberal Asks Probe Of RCMP Resignation

(From Times News Services)

OTTAWA—The Commons budget debate, ranging over many fields, has produced a call for a parliamentary inquiry into the resignation last month of RCMP Commissioner L. H. Nicholson.

"We are definitely remiss in our duty if we do not explore to the utmost the reasons for such a resignation," Leon Crestohl (Liberal, Montreal Cartier) said Monday in proposing the inquiry.

The commissioner resigned over the federal government's refusal to comply with the Newfoundland government's request to send 50 RCMP reinforcements to help police a loggers' strike on the island.

"Because of the unusual suddenness of this event," Mr. Crestohl said at another point, "I had expected that the government would have at once and of its own volition set up a probe to inquire into the background of this vital matter."

Mr. Crestohl said the public wants to know if there were political overtones or interference in the resignation.

PAUL MARTIN
... "Tory tradition"

New Departments Proposed

As the eight-day debate on Finance Minister Fleming's budget wound through its sixth day, topics included proposals for new government departments.

Hazen Argue, CCF House leader, proposed a $2,000,000, 000 capital expansion fund to be administered by a new federal department of planning and development.

He said fresh capital funds should be put into a new national highway system, educational and hospital facilities and into providing competition for private enterprise through publicly-owned corporations in the banking, steel, chemical, fertilizer and drug industries.

As for social security, Mr. Argue called for a basic old age pension of at least $75 a month.

Martin Tees Off on Budget

Paul Martin (L. Essex East) also entered the sixth day of the budget debate to attack Mr. Fleming as the first finance minister to have presented three peacetime deficits in a row, including one that was the biggest peacetime deficit in Canada's history.

The former Liberal health minister said Mr. Fleming's performance is in the Conservative tradition. There had been only four budget surpluses by Conservative governments since Confederation and none by them since 1913.

Mr. Martin said Mr. Fleming misrepresented the deficit in the 1958-59 fiscal year ended March 31 by reporting it as $617,000,000 when it actually was $835,000,000. By "manipulation" of his figures to liquidate a $218,000,000 defence equipment account he had reported the lower figure.

Opposition members failed Monday to get comment from Immigration Minister Fairclough on a recent press report that a controversial immigration order was drafted by civil servants to embarrass

Letter to Khrushchev Asks Halt On Dangerous Low-Level Testing

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower has put up to Soviet Premier Khrushchev a proposal to ban nuclear weapons tests which dangerously pollute the atmosphere.

Prime Minister Macmillan of Britain has also written Khrushchev supporting Eisenhower's proposal.

A first-stage agreement to outlaw tests below 30 miles in the atmosphere, Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, could ease the deadlock among negotiators now seeking a way to halt all weapons testing.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said

Khrushchev had not replied to the Eisenhower letter. It was sent to Khrushchev April 13—the same day U.S. negotiators outlined the new U.S. proposal in Geneva.

EASY TO DETECT

He said a simplified control system to detect any test explosions in the atmosphere could easily be developed from expert recommendations already at hand, and could be left to later Geneva negotiations.

Test explosions in the atmosphere cause more radioactive fallout than those conducted underground or in outer space—two types which would not be banned now under the newest U.S. proposal.

The president said that so far as a comprehensive agreement is concerned, no basis for such now is in sight.

All-Out Fishing

AS A MONEY-MAKER IN British Columbia's economy, fisheries run a poor fourth to forest industries, mining and agriculture. The estimated earnings from the harvest of the sea and rivers may be less than one-tenth of the total.

But fisheries loom large as a food source and will loom larger still. Now they are being threatened, the industry is told, by the expanding fisheries of Russia and Japan.

"The picture is disturbing when you look into the future," says Mr. C. Gordon O'Brien, manager of the Fisheries Council of Canada.

It is disturbing, among other reasons, because Japan and Russia are questing further afield for their catches, taking fish which might otherwise return to Canadian natal streams to spawn—and because those two countries are fishing more efficiently than ever before to meet the mounting demands of their people.

If, as current estimates indicate, the next 10 years will see the addition of another billion fish eaters to the world's population, conservation measures will have to be extended on international lines. The mere establishment of territorial off-shore limits will not be sufficient. Fish don't observe them.

It is simple enough to understand why Japan and Russia are catching as much as they can in various waters of the world. The Japanese people are hungry. They need fish for protein. The Russians have found perhaps their most disappointing agricultural production in livestock and have to supplement the meat diet with fish. They eat per capita roughly twice the amount of fish consumed per man on this continent.

Furthermore, the Russians have decimated their fresh water fish supply by permitting river pollution and by installing hydro dams on the Volga. In the 1920's about two-thirds of the nation's catch came from fresh water. In 1957 the losses from pollution and dams were estimated at roughly $50,000,000 a year—about five-sevenths of the returns from fisheries in British Columbia in 1955.

To compensate for the loss—and to improve production totals—Soviet salt-water fishermen are covering more ocean, are conducting outstanding research work in oceanography helpful to the fishing industry, and have the open co-operation of the Russian navy in their work.

Whether or not the fishing industry of Russia reciprocates by conducting work for the Red Navy is a question which concerns the United States security forces in particular as U.S.S.R. trawlers come close to North American shores.

At all events the fishing operations of Japan and Russia, along with those of other maritime nations, pose the threat of depleted stocks. Canada is aware of that. So is the United States.

Under the circumstances, all countries should work together to protect fish, as countries bound themselves in the pelagic sealing treaty to which Canada, the United States, Russia and Japan were signatories, and as Canada, the United States and Japan have bound themselves by terms of the North Pacific salmon agreement. Any other course brings the day of plankton mush closer to the human table—and after that greater hunger than ever.

No Facilities for a Panic

ONE OF OUR CANADIAN newspapers draws a sweeping editorial conclusion from the recent British TV show simulating a space invasion.

The incident, like the panic-creating Orson Welles radio play which three parts of the United States into hysteria some years ago, was labelled "a lewd joke" and "an outrage" by The Times of London.

The Canadian commentator suggests that if a television announcer issued a warning that a bomb-laden satellite was hovering over a big city in this land, the average Canadian viewer would settle back in his chair and wait for the commercial. He implies that Canadians may be more blasé than the British, that it would take more than a space ship—might even take a ballet performance on "Folio"—to send us into the street screaming or to phone the CBC.

Maybe. But we have never had bombs lofting over onto our landscape yet. And almost any household is immensely courageous until his first experience with a beligerent burglar.

Or perhaps we're not equipped to do anything against a space invasion. Canadians, by and large, don't buy civil defence. And the prevalence of studio couches and lo-box-spring mattresses makes it too difficult to hide under the bed.

Cultural Exchange on Ice?

BECAUSE THE TELEVISION audience is growing continually, probably more people than ever before followed the Stanley Cup playoffs visually.

Those who did saw about the best that hockey can produce in craftsmanship as they watch the Montreal Canadiens. The four-time consecutive trophy winners were a collection of individual artists with a magnificent sense of team effort. This is the game as it can be played in all its refinements by highly-gifted performers.

This, we suggest, is also the game which should be demonstrated to Europeans.

There may be some reason why the Canadiens could not enter what is called the world championship tournament in Europe. Some confused definition of amateurism—a definition which escapes us in spectator hockey—intervenes.

But how much better if Canada could send the Flying Frenchmen across the ocean to show what the game can be like, and also a team of university students or complete simon-pures to show, too, what amateurism can be!

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT: THE LEGEND AND THE MAN

No Conceit, Only a Harmless Vanity, Penetrating Observation, and Good Sense

NEW YORK—I met him first on a winter's afternoon in what I almost slipped into calling the vestry of his suite at the Plaza in New York.

I pressed the electric button at first timidly, then boldly, then incessantly, and was about to turn away when the door was opened by a pretty young woman, a secretary, or granddaughter, or vestal virgin, perhaps, who beckoned me into the hushed gloom behind her through which I expected to see sacramental tapers. Then she nodded and vanished down the corridor.

It is difficult to avoid these theological images in introducing him because his reputation, his public pronouncements, his photographs—the majestic head, the marble serenity, the Miltonic collar, the cape of Superman—all considered to suggest a sort of exiled Buddha, a high priest scuttled from his temple by the barbarians, one of those deposed monarchs so frequently seen around New York who gamely try to convey, that a free-wheeling democracy is just their speed.

The room he sat in was seedy, in a lavish Edwardian way, and no single furnishing—no chair, fabric, window casement, carpet, lintel, or door knob—was invented much later than the June of 1869 in which he was born. He lay stretched out on a sofa; his fine hands folded on his lap, a shawl precisely draped around his shoulders.

He looked like Merlin posing as Whistler's Mother. Indeed, there was always a curiously feminine grace about him, but it was nothing frail or skittish.

He looked more like a matriarch of a pioneer family, one of those massive western gentlewomen who shipped the piano from Boston round the Horn, settled in the Sacramento Valley, defied the Argonauts as they set fire to the cattle barns and, having finally reclaimed their Spanish land grants, came into their own again as the proud holders of old manners against the derision and ribaldry of the new rich.

In writing about him as a character delineated by Henry James, or sentimentalized by Gertrude Atherton, I hope that I am not so much arranging a suitable atmosphere as conveying a psychological shock.

One expected a tyrant, a man constantly caricatured by the press as a bellowing incoherent. And here was a genial skeptic whose habitual tone was one of pianissimo-rallenty.

It may be that I knew him too late, when the fire and brimstone were all spent, when whatever lava had been in him in the turbulent days had cooled and hardened in the enormous, firm dewlaps that started at his nostrils and seemed to be tucked away not far above the clavicle.

There must be some explanation for the discrepancy between the legend and the man. Perhaps his long decade of neglect in his sixties, when he had to borrow from his friends to retrieve a mortgage on his own home, is as good as any.

"... One thanks heaven one's greens committee is filling the breach since one's council flunked out of civil defence..."

FROM WASHINGTON

The Need Is Also Great for Fresh Ideas

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WITHIN a fortnight, Konrad Adenauer accepted transfer from the Chancellery to the Presidency of West Germany; and John Foster Dulles' illness at length drove him to lay down the office of Secretary of State of the United States. The Dulles resignation, climaxing an amazing display of stoic fortitude, coming at a desperately critical moment in our affairs, was a deeply poignant episode. The most ordinary human sympathy compels one to wish that this astonishing old man might have achieved his grimly pursued aim.

Alsop

It was a modest aim, after all. It was no more than to hang on, still in harness, still pulling the coach, until the West had turned the Berlin corner.

Man's fate is often cruel, but it seemed extra-cruel, somehow, that the few months of extra time that Dulles wanted so badly—that he bore such suffering to gain—were not in the end granted to him.

Great Misfortune

By the same token, it is a great misfortune for the Western allies.

For the short run, in truth, the loss of Dulles means the loss of the greatest single element of strength in the Eisenhower administration, and the departure from the stage of the one Western leader whose knowledge and authority could not be challenged, even by his most bitter enemies.

Viewed in a longer perspective, however, the departure of Dulles has another meaning, directly linked to the meaning of Adenauer's intended half-retirement.

These two great changes in the West's leadership mean the beginning of the end of a whole era. Dulles and Adenauer, like Eisenhower and Macmillan and de Gaulle, were old enough to experience the First World War, not as mere boys, but as grown men.

Early Career

Dulles, who rose in the world more rapidly than the others, was even a fairly significant junior member of the cast in the drama at Versailles. The present era's tone has been set, its outlook has been determined, its leadership has been provided by these and other men who saw the first war, made their careers in the inter-war years, and reached command positions as a result of the second war.

That is the era which is now ending. It will come to its real close, for all practical purposes, when Dwight D. Eisenhower steps down from the Presidency.

In many respects, it has been a great and fruitful era, particularly marked by a total revolution in the relations between the United States and the rest of the world. But a new era has been long overdue, nonetheless.

Ideas, at bottom, are what make an era; and the dearth of seminal and fresh ideas in these last years has become downright frightening. In our domestic politics, the conservatives still sound like parodies of Herbert Hoover, while the Left wingers are still pale and timorous imitations of Franklin Roosevelt.

Postwar Changes

In foreign affairs, the great innovations were made after the war ended; but the first Truman administration was the cut-off point. NATO, for which the keel was laid in 1948, was the last big ship to go down the long-abandoned ways.

The second Truman administration was wholly barren of fruitful new departures (for the brave response to the challenge in Korea, though admirable in itself, was only a decision to cope with a disaster which had been invited by the preceding Truman-Louis Johnson disarmament program).

Under Eisenhower, despite the talk of a "dynamic new foreign policy," the barrenness continued.

With all his stature and energy and angry determination to hold the line for freedom, John Foster Dulles offered

Acting talent is a delicate and intricate mechanism—as mysterious as the workings of a first-class clock ticking in your living room. no fruitful new inventions—for there was nothing novel in such devices as SEATO, which mimicked NATO, but lacked NATO's substance.

Time did not stand still after 1948, however. On the contrary, the last decade has witnessed a gigantic upset of the world balance of power, owing to the Soviet Union's military and economic growth.

It has witnessed, too, a long series of upheavals in the ex-colonial areas like the Middle East, on which the Western allies are still heavily dependent. Yet no reasonably safe and sure and reliable way of coping with either of these huge and ominous processes has even been suggested by any of the existing Western leaders.

In short, Secretary Dulles carried on a holding operation, not always successfully but with great courage and self-sacrifice. It is downright tragic that he should be removed from the scene at the very moment when the need is greatest for his special talent and his unusual strength of character.

But the need is also great for the fresh ideas that are always born when a new era starts, under the auspices of new men with fresh outlooks.

eventual appearance on a television program. He dismissed it at once as an absurdity, since it involved a medium only slightly less debased than the movies.

I told him that no sponsors would interrupt his sermon; the models he used would be of his own choosing; he could say exactly what he pleased.

He waived the whole vision aside as a bit of vulgarity for which he would not hold me responsible. Then he slipped, from total and inexplicable free association, into a diatribe against Franklin Roosevelt.

In some dim but infuriating way, Roosevelt, it seemed, was responsible for the triumph of the rabble, for the "agony of our cities," for skyscrapers, for the United Nations building ("an ant-hill for a thousand ants"), for the whole mushrooming fashion of what he called "Nuremberg Fascist Modern," and for the coming destruction of the Edwardian pile we were sitting in ("the only beautiful hotel" he said bafflingly "in all of this god-awful New York").

About two hours later, by which time he had murmured most of the slogans from his latest book, he chuckled and said: "Tell me, Alistair boy, did you ever meet an executive, a president of a corporation, a button-pusher, who ever had a smidge of aesthetic in his make-up?" I said I never had.

"Very well, then, when do you want me to appear and where?"

We blocked out the feature and arranged rehearsals, and went around for weeks in euphoria, which was shattered when he passed down an ultimatum through an emissary: "No rehearsals! Rehearsals freeze the natural flow of the human personality."

This sounds awful in print, but all such sentences were delivered, either in person or over the phone, in the delicate and warmly modulated voice which had for 50 years seduced wax manufacturers, oil tycoons, bishops, university boards of trustees, and at least one Emperor of Japan into commissioning cantilevered Aztec structures most of which were later rescinded, condemned as unsafe, or merely paid for and deplored.

On the day of the show, we asked to pick him up after his midday nap and brought him to the studio well ahead of time. He had evidently forgotten all about the flat against rehearsals, and stood by a model of his Bartlesville Oklahoma building and watched the stage manager chalk in a position for him on the floor.

"What is this?" he asked, pointing down at the tiny person yard he was meant to move in. I recalled to him the actor's famous crack about television ("Some are stuck in an iron lung") and he smiled and seemed to be pacified again.

The director's voice came squawking over the loud-speaker: "Mr. Wright, will you turn and face the model?" He must have thought it was God's command, for he raised his head and said to the air the appalling syllable, "No."

He thereupon sauntered off to get his hat, cane, and cape. I chased him and got him off for a stroll around the dark cavern of the studio that lay beyond the lighted set. It was a tight moment.

He needed to be coaxed, but he could spot a fawn at 20 paces, and flattery got you nowhere. We had an hour to go, but he took my arm and we pattered in circles in the gloom while the director watched the minute hand of the clock.

I agreed that television was a shad, catch-as-catch-can business but suggested it was hardest of all on the camera men, "the real craftsmen." I mentioned that they could not trust to luck, they had to block their shots and know where the prima donnas intended to move.

Five minutes later, he was back on the set, as malleable as an ageing cat. The scripted outline was forgotten.

We simply sat and talked, and to comatose or apoplectic millions he trotted out such unashamed ad libs as: "The interior decorator is simply an inferior desecrator of the work of an artist"; "we are all victims of the rectangle and the slab, we go on living in boxes of stone and brick while the modern world is crying to be born in the discovery that concrete and steel can sleep together"; "we should learn from the snail—it has devised a home that is both exquisite and functional."

After this first bout with the most highly advertised ego of our time I ran into him in various places or was asked to call on him, and I probably presume in saying that my failure to discern any conceit in him but only a harmless vanity, penetrating observation, and always his beautifully cadenced good sense was due to one of those accidents of personal chemistry that seal confidence in an instant and dissolve mountains of fear or antagonism that can never be argued away by two uncongenial people.

'And Then Came Spring'

"I HAVE decided," said the boss of our house, "to just putter around in the garden. You can go at the thing too hard, you know—or do you?"

"No, I guess you don't. There are lots of activities at which you aren't 100 per cent efficient, but when they produce a better putter-arounder than you, I'd like to meet him."

"While I was raking the moss out of the lawn the other day and you called me to see your fine crop of horsetails, I envied that sublime quality of yours. The jungle could move in on us, like it did in Kipling's story, and you could contemplate horsetails with a wonderful abstraction."

"I meant to ask you: Did you devise any plan for converting horsetails to some useful purpose? Or did you spend the whole afternoon looking at them and musing. They ought to be good for something if only we knew what?"

"Well, do we know what? Or were you just running off gently at the mouth while you were growing into the scenery in the vegetable plot?"

"I've been watching you ponder down there ever since the weather got warmer, and the thought occurs to me that you might make a good base for a bird bath, only concrete is more durable. Also, a concrete base doesn't get up and come in at meal times. The upkeep's lower."

"Oh sure, cerebration is in progress while you're apparently inactive, squatting on the good earth. But don't get the idea that you can talk me out with a long word or two. I have a dictionary, too."

"And yes, I'm fully aware of the slogan for success by that gentleman who made a million dollars or so out of trees. There's nothing wrong in theory with his advice to investigate, organize and delegate. Only this delegate is getting a mite tired of Joe-boy in the garden while you proceed with your lucubrations."

"Meditation, my friend, is a fine thing. We ought to have a great deal more of it. The world would be better if we had. But straight meditation digs no dirt. Somewhere in the process somebody has to push in a shovel and turn the earth.

Of course you can make a case against cultivation. Of course there's a certain natural beauty to the wilds—and we're getting mighty close to them in this yard. And, if you look at it a certain way, there's an attractiveness to a forest of horsetails where we have had neat rows of spuds, beets and green peas.

"If horsetails were rare, they'd probably be cherished, just as cactus is cherished by certain people because it's hard to grow up here and is uncommon."

"But horsetails are not rare. They're not hard to grow. Nobody wants them. Since you've spent the early part of this spring looking unsuccessfully for a use to put them to, maybe you'd better abandon your research and pick up the spade."

One of us has to, and I'm of a mind to putter around this year. I'm of a mind to go in for one of those natty little gardening costumes I see in the magazines. I'm of a mind to investigate, organize and delegate—which is the better way to garden for a lady.

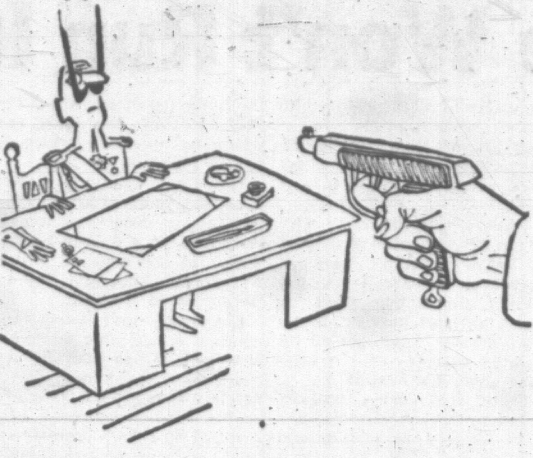

"Naturally, I'll need a gardener. I want to be gentle about this suggestion. I don't want to shock you. But, and you'll notice that I'm saying it softly, you're he."

"And that's a good thing, too. You've been saying that you need more outdoor exercise. You've been wishing you could be given the necessary push to make you use the muscles you remember from a lost youth. So, I'm pushing."

"Why, in no time at all, you'll have rid yourself of that spare tire around your waistline. You'll be vibrant with health and physical fitness. You'll look 10 years younger and feel even more youthful than that."

"I'll be proud of you, a man of action—with a shovel, that is. And I'll have more time to putter, which is the way it should be, according to the magazine articles I read on people who enjoy gardening."

"It's true that gardening in recent seasons has been a chore, has grown dull. But there'll be some changes made. We're starting now. With you."

Canada Urged To Lead Trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Soviet Ambassador Amasasp Aroutunian suggested Monday that Canada take the lead in promoting an armistice on the East-West trade front.

"Sometimes I think that Canada may be the most suitable country to take initiative in normalizing world trade," said the ambassador, who is establishing himself as one of Russia's more outspoken envoys.

The dark, dapper ambassador, in a luncheon speech to the Canadian Club, forcefully denied that the Soviet Union is engaged in a trade offensive against the West.

"Soviet foreign trade is balanced and cannot be aimed at upsetting the world market," he said. "We never pursued the policy of dumping and always stood against it as an unhealthy phenomenon."

WAS SARCASTIC

While giving his own country a clean bill of health, Mr. Aroutunian referred several times to "discrimination" by Western countries. He was bluntly sarcastic about the organization known as COCOM, a co-ordinating committee in Paris which considers trading control on strategic materials.

The ambassador said COCOM, with a "not very melodious" name, failed completely in its "cacophonous" policy of discrimination. Its activities had only made the Soviet economy more powerful.

Mr. Aroutunian began his speech with a sarcastic reference to "another ambassador" who, he said, had made public speeches provoking hostile

Risks of Transfusion

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many people write to tell me that because they had a little anemia or were going to have an operation, their doctor gave them one or two transfusions. Perhaps two months later they came down with a severe form of hepatitis, or inflammation of the liver. In a rare case the person nearly lost his life because of it. The danger with transfusions is that so many persons carry in their blood the virus of hepatitis, and bloodbanks have no test that will enable them to weed out all these people.

Alvarez

A while ago several experts in this field begged doctors never to order a transfusion unless this is definitely necessary to save life. I am sure no doctor will ever transfuse me just to show his zeal in treating me! I will never accept a transfusion unless I greatly need it in order to recover. We doctors sometimes forget the injunction of the great Hippocrates, who practiced 450 years before Christ. He said, "While trying to help a patient see to it that you don't do him any harm."

To my great joy I just read in the Journal of the American Medical Association that Drs. W. A. Sayman, R. L. Gauld, S. A. Star and J. G. Allen have found that if they will take just the plasma or fluid part of the blood, and keep it in a warm room for six months, the bad virus will die out. As a result, in the last group of cases of persons studied for months after they had an injection of this "stored plasma," there was no case of hepatitis. This represents a great achievement.

GOOD SENSE IN A FRENCH JUDGE

I was just reading in the American Medical Association News of what I think was good sense in a French judge. An aging American woman brought suit for $119,000 damages against a Paris plastic surgeon who, at her request, had tried to iron out her facial wrinkles, and the bags under her eyes; also, to give her breasts a more youthful line and an upward tilt. She admitted that the results in her face were excellent, but she still doubted if her breasts looked quite like those of Venus de Milo. The wise judge ruled that "at a certain age, one should not ask the impossible." He found for the doctor and assessed the costs to the American woman!

What a wise judge, and how I wish there were more like him in this country! In this country, most plastic surgeons whom I know refuse to try to beautify an elderly woman who really doesn't look bad. Why? Because she expects too much; she wants to be ravishing, and hence she is likely to be dissatisfied with any result she gets! The woman whom a plastic surgeon loves to operate on and help is one who, because of an auto accident or a burn, looks so bad, that any improvement which he can make in her appearance will be gratefully received.

11 YEARS UNCONSCIOUSNESS

In the American Medical Association News is the story of a very wealthy woman who has just died after 11 years of lying unconscious and paralyzed after a bad stroke. This is said to be the longest period on record of such unconsciousness. Doubtless she was kept alive by strenuous and expert medical care. I wonder how many persons are asking why she was kept alive so long. What purpose did it serve?

Post-Winter Work on Lawn

An essential part of the spring grooming of a lawn is the correction of depressions, caused by walking on the wet surface during winter, and running bicycles, wheelbarrows or lawn carts over the turf before it is sufficiently dry in spring. An uneven surface is the beginning of warm weather troubles. The mower blades tear the plants from the ridges and leave long, lush growth in the hollows, giving the familiar patchy brown and green lawn.

Jack

Shallow depressions, up to one inch deep, can be filled by brushing into the grass a screened and sterilized compost mixture. Sterilizing is necessary to prevent adding weed seeds.

The turf should be removed from deep hollows or high spots, the soil brought to level, and the turf tamped firmly back. Here again a sterilized soil mixture should be used.

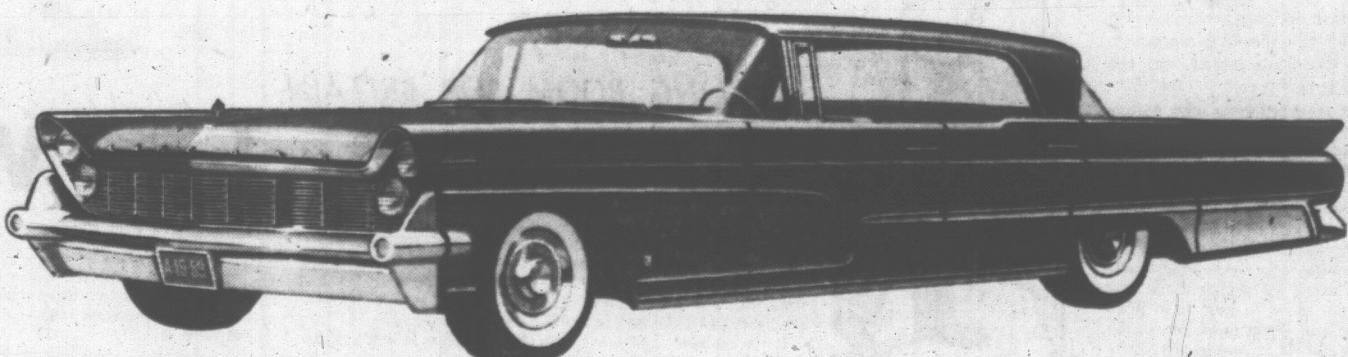

When repairs are completed the lawn receives a finish cut in both directions, lengthwise and crosswise, with the mower still set high.

Best results with selective weed killers are obtained when the average night temperature is above 45 degrees. If dethatching is to be done with a hormone, delay fertilizing until after the weed killer has been applied in early May.

The lawn must have a good breakfast after its long winter sleep. It requires a complete fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash. Organic fertilizers and nitrogenous tonics are not sufficient to build the strength of the lawn for summer conditions.

Any good complete fertilizer, applied according to manufacturer's directions, will help the lawn resist many of the more common summer ailments.

MOOSE JAW (CP) — Saskatchewan Liberals have invited Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland to speak in this province and a unionist says it may be part of an anti-union crusade by the Liberal party.

F. W. McClelland, president of the Saskatchewan Federation of Labor, said Monday many will believe the invitation has been made to "engineer an emotional anti-union crusade in the province so as to secure farmer support based on false issues and an inflated situation."

A Liberal spokesman confirmed that the party has invited Mr. Smallwood to come to the province for a series of meetings, but he said the association has received no confirmation that the Newfoundland premier can come and does not know when the visit might be.

"I can't agree that it's an anti-labor move," the spokesman said. "We would like to hear Mr. Smallwood's side, but if he accepts the invitation we'll probably invite a labor official to come to the province, too."

Mr. McClelland said Liberals have a right to hear any speaker they choose, but "labor people in the province will be forced to draw appropriate conclusions..."

Finsterwald Writes For Average Golfer

Dow Finsterwald, brilliant young Professional Golfers' Association champion, wants to help you trim some strokes off your golf scores. In an instructional series, Finsterwald, who typifies the new playing pro on today's tournament circuit, will explain the intelligent approach to golf that made him a money-winner in 72 consecutive tournaments. Designed to help the average player improve his game, the series starts in The Daily Times today. Read below for Harry Grayson's column on Finsterwald and Dow's first article.

THE SCOREBOARD

BY Harry Grayson

NEW YORK (NEA)—Shortly after Dow Finsterwald was graduated from Ohio University in 1952, this handicapper said that he was the nearest thing to Ben Hogan that ever came down the fairways.

DOW FINSTERWALD "nearest to Hogan."

Finsterwald reminds people of Hogan in build and precision, but mostly because he thinks out his shots like the four-time winner of the United States Open.

Because Dow stresses intelligent golf, we asked him to do an instructional series aimed at players with a 17 handicap, which covers the bulk of weekenders and beginners.

"I'd like to reach the young business man who has neglected playing golf," said Finsterwald, when we arranged the series at Tequesta on the Loxahatchee, hard by Jupiter, Fla., where he is the head professional. "Suddenly he discovers that golf can be an important part of his business. There is no better way of making contacts, selling, etc."

Finsterwald, 29, is typical of the new type of playing pro, and his is a new kind of instructional series. The PGA champion starts with the premise that golf is a complex job with every shot a new problem until the game becomes simple for the player.

Dow is teaching the game which enabled him to finish in the money in 72 consecutive tournaments. He was the Golfer-of-the-Year in 1957, when he won the Vardon Trophy for the lowest stroke average and was a member of the Ryder Cup team. He was the second biggest money winner in 1956, third in '57 and near the top in '58. Nine days ago he won the Greensboro Open.

Finsterwald brought a trained mind to the fairways, yet he came the hard and old-fashioned way. Dow became interested in the game by coming up through the caddy ranks. As a high school student, he spent his summers assisting in the pro shop of the Athens, Ohio, Country Club. He'd do anything to be near the game and to occasionally get a club in his hands.

Dow's father, Russ, an Athens attorney, hoped his boy would some day join the law profession, but did not discourage the lad's interest in golf. Russ was a three-sport star at Ohio U., coached football and basketball there. He refereed Big 10 football games for 25 years.

Dow led the Ohio U. golf team to two straight Mid-American Conference titles. Bob Littler, the Athens Country Club pro, knows Finsterwald as well as anyone. He believes that Dow's exposure to his father's athletic career and the player's pre-law training have been an asset.

Russ Finsterwald is clear and direct about everything, just as if he were arguing a case before the bar. "If Russ asks you what your golf score is," says Littler, "he doesn't want to hear about the out-of-bounds shots or the putt that just missed. He wants the bare score. Dow's that way about his game. He takes few chances, just goes for bare results. He doesn't make excuses when he has a bad round."

It was Jack Gilbert, sports editor of The Athens Messenger, who first compared Finsterwald with Hogan. Their struggle up golf's ladder was similar. As in Hogan's early career, Finsterwald was an also ran in more tournaments than he cares to recall. But in doing so, he earned the respect of those he played against.

Finsterwald was a fine shotmaker before he went into the air force in 1952 and a better one when he came out in '54. He reached his peak last summer when he fired a sparkling 276 over the Llanerch Country Club layout at Havertown, Pa., to win the PGA championship the first time it was determined at medal play.

DOW TALKS GOLF... NO. 1

It's a Simple Game

This is the first of an instructional golf series, written for NEA Service and The Daily Times by Dow Finsterwald, champion who finished in the money in 72 consecutive Professional Golfers' Association tournaments. The series is designed to help the average golfer improve his game.

BY DOW FINSTERWALD

Start playing golf convinced that it is a simple game, which any good shotmaker will tell you it is.

Adjust your physical capacities to the game. A short stout man can't play like a tall thin man. The main idea is to co-ordinate your power.

After the numerous fundamentals are mastered, take my word for it that there isn't much more to golf than practice and desire and, of course, the ability to make the shots. Patience will bring results. A Fresh Meadow member tried for 25 years before finally winning the club championship. Not worth waiting for, you say. Think of all the pleasant afternoons he had!

In no other game does concentration play such an important part. You cannot play good golf with a lot of other things on your mind. You must apply yourself and to do that you have to be relaxed. Any teaching professional at a northern club will tell you that members play better when they go south or southwest on winter vacations. They return boasting that they shot so and so. They were having a good time away from home, you see, with no business worries.

To score well in golf, you've got to keep your mind on your game—not the other fellow's. So far modern bowling is

Bruce Won't Run Into Any Arguments

By DOUG PEDEN

When a man willingly accepts a job that will use up all his spare time for three months, he's usually headed for an argument at home.

But not CPO Bruce Colegrave, who will head the Solarium Salmon Derby committee this year and isn't expecting to have any free evenings until after July 19—the date of the annual one-day fishing competition at Saanich Inlet.

He won't run into any family hassles over the fact that he has agreed to spearhead the campaign to raise funds for the Queen Alexandra Solarium. In fact, his wife, Margaret, heartily endorses the idea and has even offered to pitch in and help.

There's a good reason why Bruce has sympathetic support at home. Margaret formerly served as a nurse at the Solarium and knows what an important part previous Solarium derbies have played in helping patients of the crippled children's hospital.

Since the derby, co-sponsored by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and the Daily Times, was started in 1946, the event has raised the whopping total of $64,436.49 for the Solarium.

Last year, the anglers turned in a tremendous effort and the now-famous event smashed all records with a $13,949 contribution to the hospital, which was moved from Mill Bay to Gordon Head last year.

Colegrave isn't predicting another record this summer. However, he has followed the tradition of recent derby campaigns and selected a Solarium project for his committee and, it might be noted, the estimated cost of the project is close to $13,000.

Bruce, 39-year-old veteran of 23 years' service with the Royal Canadian Navy, will ask members of the derby committee to endorse the project at their first meeting Wednesday night.

"If they like the idea," says Colegrave, "we'll be able to start the campaign rolling. We should start selling tickets in two or three weeks."

Colegrave expects to have another attractive array of fishing prizes for derby competitors and the consolation prize, which may be driven home on derby day by any person who purchases a ticket, will be the best in the event's history.

First president of the Royal Canadian Naval Anglers' Association when the sailors formed a fishing club four years ago, Bruce is far from a stranger to Solarium Derby operations. He has assisted in almost all previous derbies and served on the last few committees.

"I just hope I am more successful as a derby chairman than I am as a fisherman," says the man who still has to win a VSIAA button for catching a salmon of more than 20 pounds in Saanich Inlet. He has boated big salmon in other waters, but has never managed to crash the button ranks in 20 years of Inlet fishing.

"We can never do too much for the children at the Solarium," says Colegrave. "They need all the help we can give them."

"I'm not predicting a record contribution this year, but you can bet we are going to give it a good try."

AND NOW TO WORK!

Rolling up sleeves to tackle big job is Bruce Colegrave, who will head 1959 Solarium Derby campaign. Colegrave, who has already drawn up plans for annual fishing competition, holds first meeting with derby committee Wednesday.

VSIAA-Times sponsored event has raised total of $64,436 for Queen Alexandra Solarium since it was started in 1946. This year's event is scheduled for July 19. (Times Photo by Irving Strickland.)

Drysdale's Fast Start Convinces Dodger Fans

By UP International

Those long-suffering Los Angeles fans are finally convinced that it's true what the experts said about Don Drysdale.

One of the biggest flops of the 1958 season, the 22-year-old side-arm pitcher pitched the best game of his career Monday night and beat the San Francisco Giants, 2-1, on Charlie Neal's ninth-inning homer. The victory moved the Dodgers past the Giants into second place in the National League.

Drysdale, who beat Sam Jones in a brilliant mound duel, yielded only three hits and struck out 14 to score his second victory of the season. He has struck out 25 batters in 24 innings to lead the league in that department and seems well on his way toward the brilliant season predicted for him a year ago.

Then, Drysdale started the season as the overwhelming choice of the experts to be the league's pitcher of the year. But he dropped his first five decisions, didn't win his second game of the season until May 21 and wound up with a thoroughly disappointing 12-13 record for the year.

BOUNCED BACK

The six-foot, six-inch, 210-pound right-hander flashed brilliant form during spring training but suffered a 6-1 loss to the Chicago Cubs in his first start. He bounced back four days later, however, with an eight-hit shutout against the St. Louis Cardinals so now has yielded 10 hits and one run in his last 18 innings.

A crowd of 32,946 gave Drysdale an ovation when he retired the side in the ninth inning. Willie Mays homered over the short left field fence in the first inning but Drysdale didn't allow another hit until the eighth. The game was the only one played in either league Monday.

Indians Needed More Than Bilko's Big Blow

By The Associated Press

Beefy Steve Bilko belted another home run, but it took a four-run rally in the last inning to put Spokane into first place in the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

The Indian uprising broke up a tie and gave them a 7-3 win over San Diego Monday night before a crowd of 1,251, smallest in Westgate Park PCL history.

George Freese drove in four runs with two homers as Portland beat the defending champion Phoenix Giants, 9-6. Salt Lake survived a five-run onslaught by Seattle in the eighth inning to beat the Rainiers, 8-7.

Sacramento scored all its runs in just two innings, beating Vancouver, 11-8, while a crowd of nearly 7,000 cheered.

Al Heist, first man up for Sacramento in the second inning, slammed a home run and before the Mounties could get things under control, five runs were in. It was trouble in the third again as the Solons pushed across six more runs.

Vancouver duplicated with six in the seventh, but it was too late.

BOWLING BOOM FOR BRITAIN

Anyway, Archery Won't Be a Rival Now

LONDON (NEA)—American-style bowling is making its debut in Britain for the first time, but the game isn't what Sir Francis Drake had in mind.

It is noisier. Drake, who bowled to soothe his nerves while waiting for the Spanish Armada to approach, would probably jump straight into the air at the sound of a 16-pound ball crashing into tenpins.

Bowling was a quiet game played by gentlemen on the village green in Drake's day.

Bowling today is a recognized sport in America and Canada, with its own national congress and leagues. In Drake's 16th century Britain it was strictly a time-killer.

So far modern bowling is confined to United States air bases in Britain, but film maker J. Arthur Rank plans to turn it into a big-scale industry beginning in September.

Rank is converting two cinema houses into 16-lane alleys, hopes to do the same with 20 more.

What is good-for-23,000,000 Americans cannot be bad for Britain is the Rank motto.

"We cannot afford to ignore a game which is expanding in spite of television," explains Ivor Smith, one of the Rank directors, pointing out that 618 new bowling establishments were opened in the United States last year.

Until the 19th century, bowls, which is the granddaddy of bowling, the game was considered here as a form of depravity peculiar to the lower classes, mostly because of the dissolute characters who hung around it.

It was first outlawed by Parliament because it competed with archery practice, which was important in battle. Later it was banned because it led to seditious gatherings.

As late as 1845 workmen and servants were forbidden by law to bowl except on Christmas Day, and then only in the presence of their masters.

Like many another obsolete law, this one was not enforced. This did not prevent royalty from patronizing the game.

Henry VIII had his own alleys at Whitehall Palace. Charles I turned bowling into big-time gambling, wagering as much as 1,000 pounds ($2,800 at today's exchange) a time.

Charles I was allowed to bowl while waiting to have his head lopped off by Cromwell, according to popular legend.

Bowls, which is still played in Devon with wooden balls known as "cheeses," has about as much relation to modern, American-style bowling as cricket has to baseball.

Devon is as yet undisturbed by the juke boxes and snack bars which J. Arthur Rank plans to install in his pilot alleys.

The Rank people are busy organizing teams in factories and business houses, with the view of forming leagues. They foresee a boom in such sideline industries as bowling shoes and tailor-made bowling balls with the holes placed to fit the owner's hand.

Pinboys are out in Britain due to the labor shortage and the high cost of insuring them against injury. Instead, the Rank organization will use automatic pinsetting machines, which cost $7,500 each, as well as automatic score projectors.

Many Britons fear that the high cost of equipment will make this the most expensive social craze imported from America yet. The Rank organization, they point out, might find it cheaper to install popcorn machines in order to bolster the sagging cinema trade.

So far, popcorn is unknown here.

'Palace' Ice Blocks Hockey Shift South

The Western Hockey League will almost certainly operate next season without the addition of California teams.

League directors and team owners met today to rule on franchise applications for the teams in San Francisco and Los Angeles—a decision that was believed a mere formality a few days ago.

However, The Times learned from reliable sources at Seattle this morning that it is now almost a foregone conclusion that the franchise bids will be turned down, postponing the entry of California clubs for at least one more season.

Time and money were the factors behind the switch in league plans—money to install an ice plant in San Francisco's Cow Palace and months in which to do the job.

The man who holds the key to both is Jack Perrin, wealthy Winnipeg businessman, who now owns the Winnipeg franchise in the nine-team league. There is little doubt that Perrin has the money to install the plant.

DISAPPOINTED

But at Monday's opening session of the two-day meeting, Perrin was unable to produce firm contracts or estimates to guarantee the job could be completed before the 1959-60 season opens. The directors frankly stated they were disappointed and the feeling before they went back to the meeting room this morning was that they would reject Perrin's franchise bid.

League president Al Leader said Monday indications are if the deal goes through that San Francisco and Los Angeles will replace Winnipeg and Saskatoon for the 1959-60 season.

INSIDE TRACK

Los Angeles, with a new 16,000-seat arena ready for next season, is ready to go, with either Jim Piggott, Saskatoon owner, or Los Angeles businessman Jack Dempsey as operator. Piggott has the inside track.

But without both California cities, directors won't approve either. If they are rejected this year they will get in next year without doubt. Portland's entry in 1960-61 also is a foregone conclusion.

INCREASE SCHEDULE

In other business Monday the 70-game schedule was reinstated and increased to 15 was the number of players each team will be allowed to dress for games. An application from St. Paul-Minneapolis was set aside indefinitely.

The meeting also was told that Victoria Cougars and New Westminster Royals intend to operate next season and Los Angeles and San Francisco, if admitted, will subsidize travel costs of other teams on trips to California.

It also became clear that regardless of the outcome of the meeting, Saskatoon will not operate in the WHL next season.

The Portland franchise bid was set over because the Oregon city won't have a rink ready until the fall of 1960.

Outside the meeting, Leader told reporters this year's playoffs pulled an estimated $63,000 into the kitty for the players but little for the league.

HABS HOLD WINDUP

Plante Plans To Use Mask

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach

Toe Blake and his Montreal Canadiens had a quiet little meeting Monday, the last closed session of the hockey season for the team that has achieved a record of four straight Stanley Cup championships.

The meeting was in the familiar surroundings of the Canadiens' dressing room in Montreal Forum. The get-together was in sharp contrast to the bedlam of Saturday night after Canadiens had defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3 to win the best-of-seven cup final 4-1.

The official break-up of the team for the summer came today. The meeting Monday was largely to acquaint the players with the wind-up program. First there was the civic reception for the team Monday night at Montreal city hall, where Mayor Sarto Fournier extended the city's congratulations.

Today the players assembled at the Forum for the official picture-taking of the dual-title team champions of the National Hockey League and world triholders as possessors of the Stanley Cup.

Now the players are on their own until they meet again for the training season in mid-September.

Whether all will be back, whether the draft or trades this summer will bring about changes, was left to conjecture.

Punch Pledges New Faces

TORONTO (UPI)—The

Toronto Maple Leafs hockey club wound up their season's activities today and, according to manager-coach Punch Imlach, there will be some new faces next season.

Imlach, who persuaded, goaded and fired his cellar-dwellers to the Stanley Cup finals, said he would like to get one belligerent defence-man and perhaps two aggressive wingers. However, he stressed he wouldn't casually trade off his players.

"I can think of two or three clubs that need to make deals more than we do but we'll listen to all offers," he said. "We'll be tougher to deal with than we would have been a month or two ago. I'll have to get a fine offer to part with any of them."

ROCKET RETURNING

It was considered a certainty that the veteran Maurice (Rocket) Richard will be on hand again. The Rocket will be 38 years old next August.

Something new for next season, so far as the players are concerned, is espoused by goalie Jacques Plante. The lanky netminder, a top figure in "Canadians' victory, has every intention of wearing a facial protective mask throughout next year's campaign.

In his career Plante has twice been the victim of cheekbone fractures, as well as less serious injuries. He wears a mask in practice scrimmages but has found it unsuitable for actual play because quick visibility of the area around his skates and the goal line is restricted.

Plante said he will talk with the manufacturer of plastic masks and hopes something new can be devised.

Archie Lauds Alberta Clinic

"It was perhaps the most successful clinic I've ever been connected with," was the statement of Victoria swimming coach Archie McKinnon on his return from a week-long session with Alberta coaches and swimmers in Calgary last week.

The clinic, under the auspices of the Calgary YMCA, was held specifically so that the Alberta coaches and athletes could meet with McKinnon and learn some of his highly successful teaching methods.

"They're as keen as mustard," the four-time Canadian Olympic Games coach, said. "I've never seen so many who want so badly to learn. It was a warming and memorable experience for me."

More than 35 adherents passed through the clinic, which wound up Saturday, hearing McKinnon describe all stages of training, starting with beginners and tadpoles and developing through the advanced swimmers, coaches and a swimming workshop.

Further, McKinnon also went to the pool, where he conducted regular classes with the pupils watching and learning.

"If determination has any meaning," said Archie, "then in a few years Alberta and the other Prairie provinces will be among the strongest of the provinces in swimming."

While at Calgary, McKinnon had time to renew acquaintances with a pair of well-known former Victoria athletes—Paul Rowe and Gordy Grayson.

Rowe was with the Calgary Stampede, of the Western Interprovincial Football Union when they won their first Grey Cup against Montreal Alouettes in 1950. Grayson was formerly Canadian amateur heavyweight boxing champion.

Vancouver City Golf Finalists

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bus driver Hank Mitchell will meet Johnny Johnston next Sunday in an 18-hole final for Vancouver's city match play golf tournament.

Mitchell, a weekend golfer who got a day off with pay from his bus driving chores so he could practice for the tournament, defeated professional Al Nelson one up Sunday. He defeated medalist Fred Wood one up the previous Sunday.

Friends Weren't Much Help For Lonely Soccer Goalie

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Goalkeeper Erik Olsen of the Oerum soccer team knows what it means to be lonesome. Monday night when his 10 teammates failed to show up in time, he played another team all by himself.

The other Oerum players were just arriving when the referee whistled the teams to start to play. Olsen decided to fight alone.

He won the draw and kicked the ball as far as he could. For several minutes he fought desperately, taking full advantage of his right to use his hands as well as his feet.

When the rest of the team finally took the field, Olsen was losing 1-0.

The others didn't help much. The opposition won the game 4-0.

After it was all over, Olsen said he should have played it differently.

"I should have kept them on the defence," he said.

Senior Puck in West On Last Legs—Agar

TORONTO (CP)—This year or next may be the swan song for senior hockey in the west.

So says George Agar, 40, playing coach and manager of Vernon Canadians of the Okanagan Hockey League, who lost the first game of the Allan Cup hockey finals 5-2 to Whittby Dunlops Sunday.

Second game of the best-of-seven final will be played on Wednesday.

Senior amateur "is just about done out there," he said in an interview. "Three years ago we were filling the arenas but now we get only 800 fans at the games."

Agar blames television.

"We don't get NHL games yet in the Valley (Okanagan), but TV in general is hurting us."

SOME WILL RETIRE

Even should the team continue next year, seven or eight players will probably be retiring after this season. The average of the club is about 28 and some of the boys are getting on in hockey years.

The club is a co-operative, owned and operated by the players themselves. It's been

WINS BOSTON MARATHON

Finnish Sleuth First To Find Finish Line

BOSTON (UPI)—Finnish detective Eino Oksanen held a coveted laurel wreath and diamond-studded gold medal today for winning the 63rd annual Boston A.A. marathon after proving that, like the Royal Canadian Mountie, he always gets his man.

The well-muscled Oksanen brought Finland its third marathon victory Monday by torging past the favored Johnny Kelley of Groton, Conn., with less than a mile left of the 26-mile, 385-yard course and winning by some 300 yards.

However, temperatures in the low 40s were too much to overcome for a course record.

Oksanen, 27, broke the tape in 2 hours, 22 minutes, 42 seconds, some two and one-half minutes slower than the 1957 mark set by Kelley.

Gordon Dickson, a 27-year-old accountant from Hamilton, Ont., finished third, while the 1954 winner, Velkko Karvonen of Finland, was fourth and Osvaldo Suarez of Buenos Aires, Argentina, running his first full-length marathon, was fifth.

The red-haired Helsinki police officer, who says he's a "general detective" on the force, finished third in 1956 but did not enter last year because of an ankle injury. However, he said the ankle gave him no trouble Monday. "It felt very good all during the race," he said. "It never bothered me."

Oksanen's triumph continued foreign domination of the race. He was the 13th foreign entry to capture the honors in the past 14 years. Kelley bringing the wreath back to U.S. shores in 1957 after 11 years.

Only three U.S. runners finished in the top 10.

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS—"I'd much rather live my life than play somebody else's," Liz Taylor told me one recent evening.

In that eloquent sentence, she announced her plans to retire—once more—from gainful employment. "I have taken a couple of million-dollar bets I would be retired and be a hausfrau by the time I'm 30—and I was 27 my last birthday," she added, firmly. "It's hard to say when I'll quit—I'm not setting any deadline or saying just when you won't see me around any more—as I find we can't approach life that way. But that's my goal. I'm committed to about four pictures one of which I can't discuss."

And at this point Eddie Fisher entered the little anteroom at the new Las Vegas silver dollar-shaped auditorium, and we didn't get much further with that part of the interview.

George Gobel, who had been in the room for several minutes, said to Eddie, "I feel like the most-noticed guy here. You don't even look at me."

Eddie went right on not noticing George. Nobody really blamed him. For before he came in, we had been discussing the fact that Eddie is again a colossal singer in these parts; and in the Show Biz markets of the whole world. There were some who attributed this miracle to Liz' devoted attention—and attendance—when he opened here at the Tropicana.

"It has nothing to do with me," Liz insisted. "It's not as though Eddie had been a no-talent kid. He's a great talent! He's matured greatly. He has a wonderful presence. I don't think our relationship has anything to do with the fact that he's a smash. I don't think I'm speaking as one who's prejudiced when I say Eddie is one of our finest performers today."

Finishing this small speech, Liz fanned herself against the heat of the anteroom and inquired, "Would you care to get me another glass of champagne?"

Liz did not care to say just what it was that she saw in Eddie—this was the only question she balked at, that being too personal—but on other points I found her frank and articulate.

The one thing that impressed me about her relationship with Eddie was the actually wide-eyed looks of adoration she kept giving him. (Eddie's nice and all that but I figured I would be more her type.)

And the fact that she liked his hair long and almost bushy at the peak was a point in it. If a girl said to be one of the most beautiful in the world—tells you she should not get a haircut because you look divine with your hair long, you are probably not going to get a haircut.

"DON'T PRINT THAT!"

A famed entertainer's sec'y has signed his boss' business papers for years, without asking questions. When the tax men came recently, the sec'y was threatened with jail for non-payment. He appealed to the entertainer, who shrugged: "Well, you can take the rap—you're younger than I am." A film star whose husband didn't accompany her to the Awards ceremony was rumped busting up with him, but she said, "Oh, he's home playing gin rummy."

David Wayne's down with giant hives... Danny Kaye's daughter, Dena, 11, makes her film debut in "Five Pennies"... Danny Stradella of The Hideaway, who has a one-line role in "Last Train from Gun Hill," has his contract framed in his restaurant... Roosevelt Zanders got $225 a day for the use of his $27,500 Rolls Royce in "Naked City"—more than most of the actors got.

WISH I'D SAID THAT

What this country needs, says a N.Y. hair stylist, is a permanent wave that's as permanent as a "temporary" tax. Taffy Tuttle hears there'll be a remake of "The Three Musketeers" for the teen-age market. In this one D'Aragnan will use a switchblade sword... That's earl brother.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe. Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Larry Moyer, Jr., of Allentown, Pa., for his question:

Where is the 17-year locust for 16 years?

A locust is a relative of the grasshopper. He has a pair of powerful jumping legs and a pair of wings which he uses to fly. He places his eggs into the soil like gauzy fans. The in-hole. Sometimes it does. In any life cycle as one of the great case, the mama cicada has de-wonders of nature.

The great majority of the summer you will see it, hangs-sects enjoy life for but a year, ing limply with its leaves dead. The cicada lives for from four and brown.

Lives Mainly Under Ground

The 17-year cicada lives underground for almost his entire life. We cannot see or hear him, we do not even know he is there. However, he may be draining the sap and weakening our trees and shrubs. During his years below ground he grows. He does this by molting his outer skin. His new skin is soft and elastic at first. It stretches to fit his larger body and hardens in a few hours.

The cicada nymph reaches his final molting stage 17 years after his birth. He is now an inch long and he has a pair of useless wing pads. The time has come to emerge. He crawls out of the ground and part way up a tree. At the same time, thousands of his relatives are also emerging.

The weary nymph clings to the tree with his strong front paws. Then the miracle begins to happen. The tired skin splits down the back, and out struggles a pale ghostly creature. Gradually its crumpled wings become firm and gauzy. The pale insect takes on vivid color. In a few hours, countless hordes of cicadas are ready to stage their busy, noisy coming-out party.

Quebec Top Contender For Summit

LONDON (AP)—Quebec and San Francisco appeared today to be gaining favor among the Western powers as site for the projected summit conference—with the odds on Quebec as the West's final choice.

Diplomats familiar with proceedings of the four-power allied group meeting here said a North American city seems most desired by American, French and West German delegates.

Britain's expressed preference is for Vienna, informants said, although a foreign office spokesman told reporters today this country's stand is not entirely fixed.

If a summit conference is agreed upon, the meeting place would have to be chosen by East-West foreign ministers who meet at Geneva May 11.

The Canadian government has formally approached the governments of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union with a proposal that the top-level talks be held in Quebec. Accordingly, some officials are inclined to rate Quebec's chances high.

The latest views of the Soviet Union on a site are not known, although it is generally assumed Premier Khrushchev would jump at a chance to visit North America.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Gale Middleton, age eight, of Lakeville Corner, N.B., for her question:

Might a big meteorite destroy a city?

A big meteorite may weigh hundreds of tons. It hits the earth with such a bang that it digs a deep hole, crushing everything below it. If there are trees around, the meteorite might start a fire. What a catastrophe it would be if such a thing happened in a crowded city! Well, says Andy, this is one nightmare we can all forget.

The earth is a large planet and meteorites of all sizes have been landing on it for billions of years. About 70 per cent of the world is ocean, so any large meteorite has seven chances out of 10 of falling into the sea. Of the land area, most is countryside or wilderness. Cities occupy only a tiny percentage of the earth's surface.

Lastly, large meteorites are rare. They are so rare that we know of less than a dozen striking the earth in the past million years or so. Of course all of Andy's friends know that meteorites are meteors until they strike the earth.

Chatterton Unhappy Over Whole Assessment System

Reeve George Chatterton said Monday he will ask the Union of British Columbia Municipalities to urge the government to review its system of assessing municipal lands and properties. "I'm dissatisfied with the present way land is assessed and taxed," he said. The whole system of assessment, including the court of revision setup, should be looked into.

The reeve's statement followed a brief submitted to the council by the Vancouver Island Greenhouse Operators' Association.

The brief, presented by the secretary, H. C. Saunders, asked the council to instruct its municipal assessor to assess farm lands "as defined by the Equalization Assessment Act". Farm lands, he charged, were being assessed on the basis of saleable values, which was contrary to the act.

"It should be assessed on its value while being used for farm purposes, irrespective of its potential value," he stated.

G. A. Vantreigh, operator of a bulb farm and greenhouse business, said the government taxed only the land in unorganized territory. All improvements, including dwelling houses, are exempt.

"They pay school taxes but not general taxes," he said. "I know a greenhouse operator in unorganized territory who is paying only $28 in taxes. I'm paying more than $500."

"NO CONTROL" The reeve replied that council had "absolutely no control" over increased assessments in the municipality.

"Many people don't seem to realize this," he said. "The municipal assessor receives his instructions from the provincial assessment commissioner and is obliged to follow them through."

"I wasn't aware of that," said Mr. Vantreigh. "I'm learning something every day."

The reeve said he proposed to ask UBCM to request the government to clarify certain aspects of the Municipal Act with regard to land assessments.

He also will urge a "fairer method" of assessing farm lands.

"The present system of assessing lands is confusing," he said. "In some cases the wording of the act does not make sense."

FAMED VOICE

Tenor Who Saved Met Dies

GUELPH, Ont. (CP)—Edward Johnson, 80, who won the hearts of three continents with his romantic tenor voice and went to new fame as general manager of the Metropolitan Opera, died Monday night of a heart attack.

Mr. Johnson, a one-time Guelph choir boy who created more tenor roles during a 23-year career than any other singer of his time, then turned his talents to administration and performed the herculean task of pulling the Met out of the red, was attending a ballet when he collapsed.

His musical career, described by authorities as spectacular, had ended only last year when he retired as chairman of the board of the Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto.

Mr. Johnson was the father of Florence Drew, wife of George Drew, former Conservative party leader and now Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom.

VERSATILE SINGER

The son of Welsh-Irish parents, Mr. Johnson sang Italian opera to Italians—using the name Eduardo di Giovanni—and American opera to Americans.

It has been said that never had a tenor so captured the hearts of Italian music lovers. He sang the greatest variety of tenor roles in the history of the Metropolitan.

Garden Show Visitors Hit By Boat Cut

Discontinuance of the boat service between Victoria and Seattle will stop hundreds of United States visitors from coming to the city for the annual spring garden festival of the Victoria Horticultural Society.

Syd Lang, an official of the society, said today few visitors from Washington and Oregon were expected to attend the festival because of the lack of a boat service between Seattle or Port Angeles.

The Seattle boat service was discontinued in February.

The festival every year attracted many United States garden club members to Victoria.

Fifteen of the finest gardens in the Greater Victoria area will be thrown open to visitors for the three-day festival to open on May 7.

The program also includes a tour of the Saanich Peninsula. "We hope many Victorians will turn up to visit some of these gardens," said Mr. Lang. "Some of the gardens are new and have never been seen by the public."

could see that their failures had been due to inheritance from some sickly or neurotic ancestor of a frail body with perhaps a none-too-well-adjusted nervous system, and a tendency to chronic worry and chronic nervous illness.

I have seen thousands of people of this type, wondering what they could do to help themselves, to straighten themselves out, and to get started living successfully. They kept asking, "Isn't there someone who can show me what to do? Isn't there some medicine or operation that will bring me good health and abundant energy? Isn't there some diet or some regimen that will build up my bodily strength? Isn't there some new or old philosophy that will bring success to my life?"

One answer, of course, to all this frustration and this all-too-frequent failure of people to recognize the connection between nervous strain and physical illness, is better education in regard to the wonderful ways in which our minds affect our bodies.

Often, if a patient had known more about the mind-body relationship—the technical word for which is psychosomatic—he would quickly have suspected a connection between his worry or sorrow or fatigue and the illness that followed. Such an understanding could have saved him much time and money and painful experience.

I remember well a very worrisome young woman who would get spells of retching that would last for days. One Saturday morning, after she had been vomiting for almost a week, I yielded to the entreaties of the doctor who was then treating her, and went with him for a consultation. He said he had tried every sedative he knew of and none had worked.

Fortunately, I knew her tendencies, so I simply asked her what, this time, had thrown her into a panic. She said she had received a letter from the Bureau of Internal Revenue about some mistake in her income tax return. She said the letter had such a menacing tone that she was sure they were going to put her in jail.

10 Victoria Daily Times
TUES., APRIL 21, 1959

I asked: "But why didn't you go and find out what the trouble was and get it settled?" Her answer was that she was too scared to go!

She Was Cured

So I went down to the Federal Building and greatly amused the jolly Irishman in charge by telling him what a scare he had thrown into my poor patient. When he said that all she owed was $3.85 I paid it; Then I telephoned her to say that Uncle Sam was appeased and happy. With this she quit retching; she got out of bed and started to eat ravenously!

As I studied thousands of such cases, I kept working out ways of helping the troubled, the sorrowful, the fearful and the mentally disturbed. I learned to help them understand their problems, to find peace, to build back bodily strength, or to adjust more wisely to the problems of living with themselves and with their fellow human beings. Whenever I found an argument that worked well, I kept using it, and whenever I found a bit of advice that often failed to influence the patient, I discarded it.

Always in this way I have been learning from my patients the things that helped them most. Now, I want to share this information with you.

CNR Expects Large Jump In Revenues

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian National Railways is looking to a big jump in freight revenues this year to slice its deficit by about $17,000,000.

Shortly after reporting a 1958 deficit of $51,591,000—the highest in 20 years—the publicly-owned company said it expects to be in the red by $34,400,000 on this year's operations.

Though the company did not specify where the added revenue would come from, it certainly will be derived mainly from freight tolls, the largest item of revenue for Canada's trans-continental carriers.

The prospective increase in rail revenue would bring the CNR to the second-highest point in its history. It would come close to the $774,800,000 of the 1956 boom year.

$340 Million Freeway Plan

A blueprint for a $340,000,000 freeway network to answer the traffic needs of the Vancouver metropolitan area by 1976 was made public Monday by Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi.

The plan is result of studies under way almost two years by the technical committee for metropolitan highway planning.

Members are representative of the B.C. highways department, city of Vancouver, Burnaby, New Westminster, Richmond, lower mainland regional planning board and the B.C. Electric transportation division.

The ultimate stage of the scheme would see North, West and downtown Vancouver, connected with the Deas Island tunnel and the Port Mann crossing by a network of four, six and eight-lane freeways.

If an Annacis Island crossing of the Fraser is required by 1976, the report notes an additional $40,000,000. would be required.

The average cost per mile would vary considerably from $5,000,000 per mile in residential areas to $30,000,000 per mile in downtown sections of the city.

Motorists Expected to Pay Tolls

Gagliardi said it gives statistical proof of "phenomenal growth." It cites the probability that Vancouver metro area will have doubled its population and number of motor vehicles within 16 years.

The minister added, "One of the most important things the report does show is that no one government—agency or group can hope to finance or administer these vast projects. It points up sharply the need for intermunicipal and inter-governmental co-operation."

"It shows that some form of metropolitan government, or at least metropolitan authority, is necessary to help finance these facilities. It also clearly emphasizes that the user — the motorist directly served by the facilities—should bear a direct and substantial share of the cost."

"The user, the metropolitan government or authority, the provincial government and the federal government, all should share the responsibility for providing facilities of this kind. None of them can handle it alone."

Public School Dancers Perform at Music Festival

Spirited dancing, excellent style, sparkling appearance of school dance groups in morning sessions of the Victoria Music Festival which opened today drew high praise for pupils, teachers and parents from adjudicator Mrs. Peggy MacFarlane. "A united effort that makes the Victoria festival so outstanding in its dance section," she commented. Sessions are at Central Junior High.

Tree Farm Area Biggest Concern

Hearing of a tree farm licence application by Canadian Forest Products Ltd. opened today before Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston in the Legislative Buildings.

The licence area is in the Nimpkish Valley area on northern Vancouver Island. Granting of the licence was recommended to the government by former forestry adviser Gordon Sloan prior to his death in January. Mr. Williston is carrying out forestry hearings until a successor is appointed.

Conservation, B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs, MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. and Vancouver Island Forest Industries.

The opposing briefs are mainly concerned with boundaries of the tree farm licence area.

Mr. Campbell, concerned with the pattern of up-land settlement and development, is proposing the licence be held up until an over-all highway plan in the north is completed.

He also asks that a regional planning council be established to ensure private industry does not obtain privileges which would interfere with settlement and communication.

Mr. Williston advised the hearing he was not considering opposition against the principle of tree farm licences but only the merits or demerits of the particular application.

PROTEST

This brought protest from C. B. Swanson, representing Western Forest Management, who said the notice of the hearing in the B.C. Gazette was misleading.

The Canadian Forest Products brief stated the company has five integrated plants on the lower mainland area, has invested $16,000,000 in roads, camps and equipment in the Nimpkish area in the last 17 years. It has a superior fire protection organization, seven times the minimum legal requirements.

They will be away from B.C. headquarters for Co-operation III, Canada's third national CD exercise which starts at 8 a.m. Friday and lasts 24 hours.

100 WORKERS

Control centre for B.C., on Keating Cross Road, will be manned by close to 100 CD personnel working in three shifts.

Object will be to train staffs and test communications.

Highlight of the exercise will be a test of the national attack warning system, a direct communications network between air defence command headquarters at St. Hubert, Que., and target city headquarters across Canada.

Ignoring Siren Brings $30 Fine

Herbert C. Knibbs, 1029 Oliphant, was fined $30 for speeding and $30 for failing to heed a siren when he pleaded guilty to the charges in city police court today.

Police said Knibbs drove at 60-65 miles an hour between Cook and Cedar Hill on Hillside, then when police sounded a warning he kept going and was not pulled over for a considerable distance.

31 HANGOUTS FOR CITY'S 'LIGHT BRIGADE'

City lighting superintendent Kenneth Reid today bitterly criticized vandals who break street-light globes and bulbs with stones, BB and even .22 guns.

"There are 31 locations, spread throughout the city, where street lights have been broken, and that's only a partial list of the damage," he said.

"That damage alone represents the loss of $500. That's why city costs are going up."

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

You might not think it but Sir Thomas Beecham, the peppery British symphony conductor, is a first-rate airplane passenger.

My authority for this is Capt. O. P. Jones, veteran BOAC pilot, who has been visiting Victoria on a world speaking tour.

"I once flew him across Britain in a thick, soupy fog," the captain said, "and he sang at the top of his voice all the way. 'I always sing when I'm scared,' he told me."

Capt. Jones confided that he preferred Sir Thomas' orchestral music to his singing, but it was nice having such a cheerful passenger.

The two are somewhat alike. Both have trim pointed white beards and a considerable air of authority.

Talking of look-alikes, have you ever noticed the resemblance between Sir Winston Churchill and Judge George McPhee, who has retired here after many years on the bench in Regina?

Like Sir Winston, too, the judge is acclaimed as a brilliant after-dinner speaker.

The day before he died, Gerald R. Coghlin, MBE, asked me to find a good home for the two Angora cats he kept at his cheerful home at 3190 Beach Drive.

An advertisement duly appeared in our classified columns and there were more than 40 replies. But poor Mr. Coghlin did not live to receive them.

His friend, Mrs. Susy Zuercher, who had been visiting him from her home in Switzerland, took care of all inquiries and chose a suitable home for the cats.

She leaves Victoria today to accompany Mr. Coghlin's body to England, where, according to his last wish, he will be buried beside his wife's grave at Horsham, Sussex.

One night last week an Indian handcuffed to a Mountie boarded a plane at Uluetel bound for Vancouver. As they stepped into the darkened aircraft, a smiling young pilot approached and in courteous tones inquired:

"Are you two gentlemen travelling together?"

Ever talk to a man operating a air hammer? I tried it on Government Street Monday and the conversation went something like this:

"Hello (kik, kik, kik) haven't seen you for a (kik, kik, kik)."

"No, I've been away in (kik, kik, kik); see you're still writing for the (kik, kik, kik)."

"Yes, I was (kik, kik) wondering if you'd like me to (kik, kik, kik)."

"Whaaaat?"

"I said I was (kik, kik, kik). Oh, it doesn't matter a (kik). See you further—I mean later."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Hospital authorities this morning issued their annual warning to parents against allowing children to eat the poisonous laburnum seeds.

The toxic seeds are contained in small pods which look like miniature pea pods and seem to be a favorite food of the youngsters.

The trees are common all over the city and last year's seeds are also dangerous.

Children eating them can become violently ill and deaths have been known to occur.

Thomas Michael Dignan, of Victoria, was fined $20 and $4.50 costs in Sidney RCMP court Monday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of causing a disturbance by swearing Saturday night.

David Lorne Thomson, 19, West Saanich Road, Brentwood, was fined $10 and $3 costs in Sidney RCMP court Monday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor.

Three young men each were fined $15 in city police court Monday when they pleaded guilty to charges of being minors in possession of beer.

They were James Edwin Quayle, 20, of 424 Viaduct; Barrie J. F. Coulbourne, 20, of 435 Conway; and William Calvin Bell, 18, of 1707 Carrick.

B.C. Aid Asked On Family Court

Six-Point Program By Welfare Groups

A joint brief by three major welfare groups requests the provincial government to "bring together" the four Greater Victoria municipalities in establishing soon a unified Family and Juvenile Court.

The brief was prepared by the Community Chest, Community Welfare Council and the Family and Children's Service. It was to be presented to Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Welfare Minister Wesley Black last week but the ministers canceled an interview.

B.C. HELP

The brief included the appeal for provincial help to establish a Family Court here among six recommendations. Other recommendations asked:

1. More institutional facilities for boys and girls be developed to relieve overcrowding at the industrial schools and to provide more specialized treatment;

2. That existing institutions, such as the Woodlands School for mentally retarded children, be given adequate staff to enable them to admit all children requiring institutional care;

3. That all juvenile courts be "adequately staffed" by trained probation officers with standards set by the provincial government;

COTTAGE UNITS

4. That the provincial probation branch be allowed to encourage municipalities to meet provincial standards and, where necessary, to provide the probation service for municipalities;

5. A special grant to enable the Family and Children's Service to build several cottage units for care and rehabilitation of seriously maladjusted children who are not suitable for foster homes, and a grant to cover operating expenses of the program.

Driver 'Fair' After Car Crashes Bush

Saanich motorist, Norman William Scott, 24, of 12 Regina, is in "fair" condition under observation for head injuries received when his car crashed into the bush-off Interurban Road today.

Scott was taken by Saanich police to St. Joseph's Hospital after the accident at 8.30 a.m.

Police said Scott was alone, driving south on Interurban when apparently he lost control of the car, which left the road and landed in the bush, causing about $200 damage.

CHILD HURT

Two-year-old Christine Plaxton, 1157 Balmoral, was discharged from Jubilee Hospital after treatment for a head cut and abrasions, received when she was thrown from a car driven by her uncle, Alfred Marshman, 1156 Balmoral, at Kings and Blackwood Monday at 4.30 p.m.

The car was in collision with one driven by Herbert C. Harris, 1015 Cook, causing the first vehicle to go out of control, glance off a fire hydrant, over a sidewalk and two concrete retaining walls onto the property of Douglas Lyall, 2500 Blackwood, with slight damage to the lawn and shrubs.

Green Light For Paving 32 Streets

Saanich council today got the green light from hundreds of property owners in scattered parts of the municipality to go ahead with its five-year $50,000 road improvement program.

They approved a council initiated local improvement program to pave 32 gravel roads.

Costs to residents on roads to be paved will be about 20 cents a foot, paid over five years.

The gravel road paving program was only opposed by residents on five streets: Gordon Head Road, Roy Road, Smuggler's Cove Road, Shore Road and Raymond Road.

FIRST TIME

The program designed to bring many gravel roads up to standard is the first of its type to be initiated by the council.

Saanich earlier this year notified property owners on 37 streets that it planned to pave or partly pave their respective roads unless they (householders) petitioned against the street improvement program.

More than 80 per cent of the residents involved did not oppose the scheme.

Reeve George Chatterton said the paving program will do much to reduce the municipality's road maintenance costs.

Roads to be paved or partly paved: Lockside Drive, Abbey Road, Gloria Road, Baker Street, Baron Place, Cedarleg Road, Diamond Street, Fairburn Road, Ferrie Road, Filmer Road, Garkil Road, Grandview Drive, Greenridge Crescent, Ridgeway and Tulsa Drive, Greenlands Road, Kenneth Street, Lakeview Road, Lordon Road, Martha Crescent, Simon Road, McBriar Avenue, Mount Baker View Road, Pendine Place, Schofield Place, Sonria Place, St. Peter's Road and Ventura Road.

ASK The TIMES

Q—Could you please tell me where or why the saying a person is "in Dutch" originated? V.C.

A—In a number of phrases the adjective "Dutch" has an opprobrious or humorous application, possibly in consequence of the long struggle for supremacy of the seas waged by England against the Netherlands in the 17th century, and in part also due to the traditional (but not correct) association of the Dutch with boorishness or lack of polish. Thus we have Dutch courage, Dutch treat, Dutch uncle, and "in Dutch," plus others.

Q—Will you please tell me what an open-end second mortgage is? C.R.

A—It is a mortgage without a maturity date on it; one keeps paying installments until the mortgage runs itself out.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along in The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve problems of legal problems. Nor will it attempt to set a value on real estate, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Mother's Day Is Coming—Send That Gift Off Now!

By PENNY SAVER

Don't let April fool you. It's really later than you think. If you take a look at that appointment calendar of yours you'll probably be just as surprised as I was to find that Mother's Day is just two weeks away from this Sunday!

Is the most wonderful mother in the world (yours) many miles away? If she is, you've got to get downtown, pronto, to send your little gift off to her in time.

Loveliest gift of all for any mother from 19 to 90 is a soft, beautiful silk scarf. These have hand-rolled edges, are in muted or glowing colors, border prints. To go with any and every suit or coat, an imported pure silk scarf is always something to treasure.

Special feature, is that these come in gift cards (made in England), wrap them and send 'em off letter post. You will be double sure, this way, that your gifts will get there on time.

Scarves are $2.50 and up.

Another gift that says "I remember" is a pretty leather dogwood pin. The soft white leather looks lovely on any outfit, is especially good for the woman who shies away from sparkles and fancy jewelry. Weighing next to nothing, in a pretty box, they are another good send-off gift, for $2.25.

Wearing your light-colored spring outfits these days? If you are, most necessary article on the laundry shelf is a good spot remover. They're really worth their weight in gold if they will take out that grease spot, or food stain, without leaving a margin, or an odor.

Newest, best on the market is of compressed powder, believe it or not! Like chalk, it is chemically prepared to be the easiest to use. Rub it into spot, then brush out. Voila! Marks, stains disappear! White chalk can be used even on black or navy blue materials. Box of chalk costs 39 cents.

THE BETTER HALF.

Each person shown in silhouette will be shown by picture but not necessarily on the same day. In addition there will be 40 pictures of other persons who will not be shown in silhouette drawings. Thus you will have 120 pictures from which to make your 40 selections to go with the 40 silhouettes. Keep the 40 left over pictures. They will be needed for the final Silhouette Scramble.

2. The contest starts on Saturday, March 7, 1959. Each day for 30 days you silhouette and two pictures will be printed after you have paired a silhouette with a picture, guess or in some way feature the matching pair on a single sheet of paper. All 40 sheets are to be fastened together in order and each sheet should bear your name.

3. The Times will award $750 in cash prizes to the winners. There are no entry fees. The prize list:

1. $500
2. $100
3. $50
and four prizes of $25 each.

4. The contest is open to all residents of Vancouver Island with the exception of employees of the Times and Victoria Press Ltd. and members of their families. Not more than one prize will be awarded to any one immediate family.

5. The final silhouette and picture will appear on Saturday, May 16, and with this set will appear a master score sheet on which you must enter the numbers of your silhouette-picture combinations. Do not send in your entries until all silhouettes and pictures have been published.

6. The contestant getting the greatest number of the 40 regular silhouettes correctly solved is automatically the winner of the first prize. Second highest score gets second prize, and so on.

7. A Silhouette Scramble will be published with Silhouette No. 40. This will consist of a number of silhouettes which are to be identified from the 40 pictures left over from the regular contest. This Silhouette Scramble will be used by the judges ONLY in case of a tie. If the contest is a regular contest then those contestants making the best scores in the Silhouette Scramble will be declared winners.

8. Address entries to Silhouette Contest, Victoria Daily Times, 1001 Douglas Street, Victoria. All entries must be postmarked not later than Monday, May 11. WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Road to Health Is The Road to Beauty, Too

As most of you know, this week I am bringing you my spring makeover program. I hope you will incorporate some important health rules in your routine for the next few weeks. Actually the road to health is the road to beauty and vice versa. It is impossible to have one without having at least a measure of the other. They are closely related.

When you lose overweight you are improving your health as well as your figure. When you exercise, with your doctor's permission and within your capacity, you are improving health as well as figure.

However, there are other factors you should take into consideration in your spring makeover. If you have been shortchanging yourself on sleep, stop it. If you have taken no time for little rest periods, at least do so for a few weeks. Get in touch with the vital but relaxed mood of this season. Both of these are factors in your looks as well as in your health.

Also, if you have been living in a sort of rat-run, with no time alone, no time for contemplation, find time for it whenever it is possible, at least for a few weeks. Plan for it. Everyone needs this for the good of the soul as well as the body. This will improve your health and your outlook and therefore your appearance.

For those of you who need to lose weight and are following my nine-day diet as a part of your spring makeover, here are the menus for tomorrow.

Menu for Wednesday:
Breakfast—½ grapefruit, 1 thin dry piece of wholewheat toast, black coffee.

Mid-Morning—Glass of skimmed milk or buttermilk
Luncheon—1 poached egg, 1 thin dry piece of wholewheat toast, ½ cup broccoli, 1 glass skimmed milk.

Dinner—2 crisp raw carrots, baked fish (medium portion), ½ cup green peas, shredded lettuce salad, lemon dressing, fresh fruit cup (don't eat canned fruit).

Here also is your exercise for the day. Stand with your left side toward the wall. Raise your right arm forward as you raise your right leg backward. Reach as far in each direction as you can, keeping the trunk erect and the knees stiff. Now swing your right arm down and back as your right leg swings forward and up. Continue. Do this with a smooth, easy rhythm. After a while, turn your right side toward the wall and swing your left arm and leg.

If you have missed some of the menus for my nine-day diet, which gives you a loss of from five to 10 pounds in nine days, and would like to have the complete diet in booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Whose Name Goes First? Will you please advise whether the wife's or husband's name comes first when signing greeting cards, short notes, etc.?

Louise Davis Answers
For birthday cards, Christmas cards, or any other greeting card, it is optional as to whose name goes first. It can be John and Mary Smith, or vice versa. However, a short note is in the same category as a letter and, therefore, the one writing it is the only one who can sign it. If the wife is writing the note and wishes to express her husband's sentiments or message, she can write it in the body of the note, such as "John joins me in wishing you a happy birthday" (or, "a happy and eventful trip").

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

DEAR ABBY...

Keep Her on the Reservation!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my wife started going out "with the girls." I became suspicious when she stayed out so late and I followed her. She was meeting her boss in a bar. I caused a big scene and the next day I went to the president of the company they worked for and he fired them both. Since then five people have phoned me from the office expressing their sympathy over what happened and all said the affair had been going on for over three years (ever since she started working there). There are children involved on both sides. I forgave my wife for the children's sake but now she wants to get another job to help pay off some bills. Should I let her? I don't think she can be trusted. WRONGED.

DEAR WRONGED: Keep her home for the time being. Nobody changes over night.

A wedding gown of lace over satin, full length, with a stand-up Elizabethan collar was chosen by Sylvia Grace Watling for her marriage recently to Thomas Montgomery Gill. Her shoulder length veil misted from a pearl studded tiara and she carried a white Bible topped with red roses and trailing satin streamers entwined with rosebuds.

The double ring vows were heard by Rev. C. H. Whitmore in St. Paul's United Church, Sidney. Organ was played by Miss Darleen Frewing.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Watling of Sidney. She was given in marriage by her father. Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Gill of Victoria.

Three senior bridal attendants were similarly gowned in pink.

Junior bridesmaid, Miss Judy Gill, was charming in blue nylon eyelet with matching headdress and white accessories. Flower girls, Joyce Watling and Sheila Gill, were in pink nylon eyelet with poke bonnets.

All bridal attendants carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The groom's brother, Barry Gill, was best man, and Don Rendie and Don Watling were ushers.

A three-tier wedding cake was cut at a reception in Sidney Legion Hall. S. W. Hambley, the bride's uncle, proposed the toast.

Leaving for a wedding trip up-Island and on the mainland.

HEAR THOSE HAPPY VOICES

their cues from Joan, the boys give out with some good, round "ah's." Practice paid off when their Grade 3 Cloverdale School Choir went in to gain a second-place mark of 165, tying with Monterey School in a class of eight. (See Page 3.)

Margot Fonteyn in Jail —Hostage for Husband?

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Dame Margot Fonteyn, world-famed British ballerina, was held incommunicado in the city jail today on orders of District Attorney Francisco Alvarado.

Authorities planned to question her about reports linking her and her husband to an alleged plot to overthrow the Panamanian government.

Family sources said Miss Fonteyn, wife of Roberto Arias, former Panamanian ambassador to Britain, was being held hostage for her husband, whose exact whereabouts are unknown.

Members of the Arias family, a rich and powerful part of Panama's life, managed to get permission to pass in food, clothing and other necessities to Dame Margot. Until then, she had been held under the same rules that apply to any common criminal.

Under Panamanian law, a person may be held incommunicado for 24 hours pending interrogation on orders from the district attorney.

Dame Margot, 39-year-old star of Britain's Royal Ballet, was taken into custody Monday by secret police chief Hector Valdez. She was held for a while in his home and then taken to the city jail.

In London, the foreign office said it had not received a report from the British ambassador in Panama. The British government is expected to intervene on Miss Fonteyn's behalf, however, for her British citizenship was not affected by her marriage to a Panamanian.

In Havana, Panamanian ambassador Alberto de Obarrío said that Arias had been a frequent traveller between the Cuban capital and the western province of Pinar del Rio, where Panamanian refugees have been reported planning an attempt to invade their homeland.

CHARGES FILED
Alvarado said Monday that charges also have been filed against Dame Margot, but he refused to reveal their nature.

The arms cargo is believed to have been raised by the Arias' fishing launch Nola and turned over to the shrimp boat Elaine, which landed Sunday night near the Rio Hato airstrip.

Dame Margot had sailed with her husband in their fishing launch Nola last Tuesday. It docked Monday in Balboa with the ballerina alone except for Aquilino Darkins, a Panamanian crewman.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino, commander of the Panamanian national guard, said that Arias returned to Panama in the Elaine and probably is still in the country.

Darkins told police that Dame Margot spent most of Sunday sailing the Nola in circles near the Pearl Islands, where an arms shipment was picked up, in an apparent attempt to distract air searches from the Elaine.

The captain of the shrimp boat told police that members of his crew threatened to shoot Arias if he did not accompany them to the beach.

The point where the Elaine is said to have landed, about 75 miles west of here, is near a big ranch owned by Arias' family. Dame Margot's father-in-law, Harmodio Arias, is a former president of Panama.

Lt-Col. Saturnino Flores, Vallarino's second-in-command, said that Dame Margot was "definitely involved with Arias" in the arms pickup.

OUT AGAIN

U.S. officials have again ordered deportation of one-time Communist-William Heikilla, who was returned last year after public outcry at his sudden seizure in San Francisco and forced flight to native Finland with stopover in Vancouver jail.

National Emergency
CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (UPI)—The Dominican congress today declared a state of national emergency—apparently suspending constitutional guarantees.

This was a reference to the federal government's decision, announced last month by Mr. Diefenbaker, that these special payments under the terms of Newfoundland's union with Canada will end March 31, 1962.

Liberal Premier Smallwood has termed this a betrayal of his province and Lester B. Pearson, national Liberal leader, has called it a breach of the spirit of the terms of union.

Air Franchise Bid Delayed by PWA

CHURCHILL TO RETURN IN NEXT U.K. ELECTION

WOODFORD, Eng. (Reuters)—Sir Winston Churchill broke a two-year public silence Monday night and told the West it must be "patient and firm" in East-West negotiations and "make allowances for justifiable Russian fears."

The 85-year-old veteran of British politics also announced his intention to run again for Parliament in the next general election.

Tears filled Churchill's eyes and his voice broke at the thunderous burst of applause that greeted his announcement. He had saved the news until near the end of his 25-minute speech at a meeting in his constituency.

Churchill has represented Woodford, outside London, for 35 of his nearly 60 years in Parliament.

TCA Continues Victoria Run

Processing of Pacific Western Airlines Ltd. application for a franchise on the Vancouver Island-Mainland runs now operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines has been delayed at the request of PWA.

Paul Davoud, chairman of the Air Transport Board, made the statement here today in an interview at which Duncan D. McLaren, executive vice-president of PWA, was also present.

Mr. Davoud, who was appointed air board chairman in February, said work had begun on the processing of the PWA application when the company formally requested a delay to make new submissions.

Mr. McLaren explained that his company is considering new aircraft for its western operations, and would need time to re-evaluate their application in terms of operational cost.

He said PWA is actively interested in two types of turbo-prop aircraft; the Fairchild "Friendship" and the Handley Page "Dart Herald."

Both are powered by the same type of engines used in Viscounts.

Mr. McLaren said his company's interest in these aircraft was based on a need to standardize equipment used in all B.C. and Alberta operations, for economic and service reasons.

Both Mr. Davoud and Mr. McLaren felt that vertical take-off aircraft would eventually be used on the Victoria-Vancouver run, but "not soon."

"Every five years someone predicts economical use of vertical take-off planes," Mr. Davoud said. "No doubt the day will come. But I don't think it is feasible now on a seat-per-mile basis."

Mr. McLaren said it would be three to four months before PWA is ready to re-submit its application.

Both planes being considered by his company are in the 40-passenger capacity.

MOB AT RUINS

'Can't See' Complaints Margaret

ROME (Reuters)—Princess Margaret several times complained "I can't see" when reporters and photographers surged round her at Ostia Antica, the ruins of the ancient port of Rome, today.

Press attache, C. T. Isolani, climbed a flight of steps to appeal for calm.

Italian detectives repeatedly shouted "basta, basta" (enough) and "via, via" (get out of the way) to photographers.

When she drove out of the British Embassy grounds on the sightseeing trip police had to hold back a crowd of several hundred who pressed forward yelling "Viva Margherita!"

The Queen Mother and Margaret arrived here by an RAF jet Monday night.

Italian newspapers today praised the charm and good humor with which the Royal visitors endured the weather conditions at the welcoming ceremony at the airport.

Talk Can Cure Nervous Ills

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic
and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Part 2

My awareness of the part the emotions play in physical illness began long before I received my medical degree. It started in the days when I was riding around with my doctor-father as he made his calls.

Because I was mature for my age and he was a born teacher, I quickly learned much about the philosophy and idealism of the practice of medicine. Dad was one of those old-time family doctors whom people loved because he became their friend as well as their physician.

He was the sort of man who thought nothing of getting up in the middle of the night and fighting his way through a tropical hurricane in order to treat some woman who was too poor ever to be able to pay him a fee.

When I started practice, I soon saw that my main interest was going to be in the nervous, mental and spiritual problems of my patients.

In the last 30 years, I have become almost a psychiatrist. I have had to, because at least a third of my patients need much reassurance, they need hope and cheer and understanding of their illness, and they need encouragement, so that they can pick themselves up and carry on again.

Learned From Patients, Not Books

I might note that I have learned most of the psychiatry I know from my patients and not from books. I have kept listening to what the patients tell me of their worries and fears and anxieties. Without any preconceived or Freudian ideas I asked people what they thought and feared, and what they told me I recorded and studied.

I found that even the man who comes with a cancer or a bad heart often needs encouragement and reassurance and instruction in living far more than he needs medicine or an operation. Often the woman with silent (symptomless) gallstones or a fibroid on her womb needs only to talk out with me her sorrow over a mentally retarded daughter, or a delinquent son, or an alcoholic husband.

Early I found I had to become something of a psychiatrist if I was ever to help those hundreds of people who came to me, feeling that they had been stopped short of good health, success, or happiness by some mental or psychic handicap, the exact nature of which was not clear to them.

Many of these people felt that their failure to find contentment had been due to bad luck; they said the breaks had been against them, but some

PM Pledges 'Fair Deal' For Nfld.

OTTAWA (CP)—The financial position of Newfoundland will be given every consideration, in a spirit of fairness and equity, when present commitments to all provinces run out in 1962, Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday night.

He said in a national television address that he is sorry there has been some misunderstanding between the federal and Newfoundland governments over the extent of special financial assistance to the province.

This was a reference to the federal government's decision, announced last month by Mr. Diefenbaker, that these special payments under the terms of Newfoundland's union with Canada will end March 31, 1962.

Liberal Premier Smallwood has termed this a betrayal of his province and Lester B. Pearson, national Liberal leader, has called it a breach of the spirit of the terms of union.

Trend Reversed, Unemployment Cut to 525,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment in Canada declined for the second straight month between late February and late March.

Number of persons with jobs also rose slightly during the same period, government figures showed today.

Reversing the usual seasonal trend, unemployed persons dropped to 525,000 at March 21 from 537,000 a month earlier. It was a decline of 72,000 from the post-war high of 597,000 in March, 1958.

Besides those without jobs, there were an estimated 29,000 on temporary layoff at March 21 compared with 33,000 a month earlier and 39,000 in March of last year.

MORE HOLD JOBS
The total with jobs moved up to 5,552,000 from 5,547,000. This compared with 5,401,000 a year previously.

The drop in unemployment was associated with a slight decline in the labor force. Although it amounted to only 7,000—from 6,084,000 to 6,077,000—it was in contrast with an expansion that usually takes place at this time of year.

In the past five years, the labor force has increased by an average of 22,000 between February and March.

Along with the figures of estimated outright unemployment, the government released labor department statistics showing that at March 19

Move Starts Into New Gov't House

Secretariat office of Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross was being moved into new Government House today, but the rest of the mansion is not ready for occupancy.

The office, which has been located in an adjoining building since the fire which destroyed Government House in 1937, is located on the main floor near the main entrance.

Telephone switchboard was also to go into operation today but it was not definite when the lieutenant-governor would take up residence. He may not move from his Empress Hotel suite until next week.

Carpenters are hurrying the vice-regal residence to completion and the servants' quarters are now ready. Trucks have been delivering furniture, rugs and draperies. The kitchen is complete. A new feature, an elevator, is in operation.

'VIVIDLY MODERN'

Although no inspection of the premises has yet been permitted, it is understood the wall decor in the new Government House is "vividly modern."

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant has not announced a completion date, nor set a formal opening for the building, which is now estimated to cost about $1,500,000.

When it is completed, the structure will be turned over to the provincial secretary's department for maintenance.

Slaughter Process 'Barbarous'

OTTAWA (CP)—The Toronto Humane Society today described the process of preparing animals for ritual killing within the Jewish faith as barbarous, disgraceful and prompted by considerations of dollar and cents.

"Canadians will not tolerate cruelty by a section of its population, even on pseudo-religious grounds," said a society statement read before the Commons agriculture committee.

The society said it will press "with all the emphasis at our command" that humane treatment prior to slaughter be made mandatory by legislation.

While disavowing anti-Semitism, the society's statement strongly criticized the Canadian Jewish Congress for an earlier presentation in which the congress said that the preparation of an animal for slaughter has no religious significance, and is therefore the responsibility only of the abattoir operator.

New Reservoir Indicated By Gas Well Discoveries

Two new gas discoveries in the northern Peace River district were announced Monday night by Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

One of the new wells is Kotcho Lake No. 3, 50 miles northeast of Fort Nelson, drilled by Gulf States Oil Company of Canada.

"Excellent flow characteristics indicate a major gas discovery of considerable importance for northeastern B.C. and western Canada," said Mr. Kiernan.

The second new well, Pettit River No. 1, is 60 miles north and slightly west of the first. It is under development by Gulf States Oil Company in conjunction with El Paso Natural Gas Company and Fargo Oils Ltd.

These two wells, some 60 miles apart and in hitherto un-

Red China Boosts Defence Spending

TOKYO (AP)—Red China, plagued by a rebellion in Tibet, announced today it will increase its military spending this year 16 per cent more than the 1958 figure.

Finance Minister Li Hsien-nien told the National People's Congress in Peking, the rubber stamp Communist parliament, that defence spending for 1959 will be 5,800,000,000 yuan, or the equivalent of about $2,500,000,000.

Li said the military appropriations would be about 11.2 per cent of all budget expenditures for the year.

He also disclosed that the Chinese, perhaps in an attempt to buy back the lost prestige suffered in Asia from their repression of the Tibetan revolution, will spend 600,000,000 yuan, or about $260,000,000 in aid to other countries; This is 218 per cent more than last year's allocations.

Li's report, announced by Peiping radio, said that at the instruction of President Mao Tse-tung and the central committee of the communist party, 1,000,000,000 yuan, or about $435,000,000, will be turned over to the newly-formed peasant communes as a subsidy.

It will be distributed mainly to the communes and production brigades whose production have fallen behind. This item appeared to confirm earlier reports that there had been trouble developing some communes and that not all of them had been successful.

productive areas of the province are important for their location as well as their potential productivity," said Mr. Kiernan.

The location of the wells indicates possibility of a great new reservoir of natural gas. But only further testing and drilling can ascertain the dimensions, the minister cautioned. It could be a "high output but limited area."

The minister said, "The Pettit River well about 15 miles south of the B.C.-Yukon border, pushes successful exploration into the northeast corner of the province."

The minister recalled that farther south in the Miligan Creek area near Fort St. John, two oil fields have been developed which may prove to be a continuous field. There are nine oil wells in the area authorized to produce 9,390 barrels of oil daily.

A recent Crown reserve sale in this area brought over $600,000 for gas and oil rights to the provincial treasury. The Crown also receives $1 an acre as yearly lease fees plus royalties of 15 per cent of gas production and up to 16 1/2 per cent of oil production.

Mr. Kiernan pointed out that gas and oil industrial development in B.C. represents investment of $200,000,000 in pipelines and plant installations, not counting urban consumer distribution lines or the millions that have gone into exploration and development.

He added, "This is all just the beginning."

In the past 12 months the area held under exploration permit has grown from 24 million to 30 million acres.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Toronto Slips Back Under Profit-Taking

The Toronto stock market drifted back today in the face of light profit-taking. Mid-afternoon trading was the slowest this year.

Among industrials banks continued strong but pipelines after a strong showing Monday were slightly on the downside. Trans Mountain was the most active issue, down 1/4 at 13 1/2 on a turnover of 18,000 shares.

Gains by selected blue chips helped boost the New York market irregularly higher today. Eastman Kodak spurted a half dozen points.

AT TORONTO Moore Corp. added 1 at 113 but Great West Saddle was down 1 at 86 1/2.

Uranium were down as Consolidated Denison lost 1/4 at 15 1/2 and Algom and Gunbarrell dipped 1/4 each.

AT LONDON stock markets presented an irregular appearance with selective buying equally matched by profit-taking. The undertone remained firm.

There was a slight revival of interest in gilt-edged securities which established widespread small gains.

American dollar stocks were mainly higher but Canadians were lower.

AT VANCOUVER trading was quiet and prices showed little change during the forenoon. Royal Canadian Ventures moved 5,000 at 32. Mid-West Copper traded 8,000 at 23. Sheep Creek sold 2,000 at $165. Trojan moved 3,500 at 15.

CNR Expects Large Jump In Revenues

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian National Railways is looking to a big jump in freight revenues this year to offset its deficit by about $17,000,000.

Shortly after reporting a 1958 deficit of $15,591,000—the highest in 20 years—the publicly-owned company said it expects to be in the red by $34,400,000 on this year's operations.

Though the company did not specify where the added revenue would come from, it certainly will be derived mainly from freight tolls, the largest item of revenue for Canada's trans-continental carriers.

The prospective increase in rail revenue would bring the CNR to the second-highest point in its history. It would come close to the $774,800,000 of the 1956 boom year.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

CHICAGO (AP)—A rather sharp drop in cash corn receipts sparked fairly active short-covering in the futures pit today and the nearby months were bid substantially higher.

Other grains and soybeans, however, were under light fairly heavy selling pressure with setbacks running well over a cent. Broadest losses were in May-wheat and rye and new-crop soybeans.

AT MONTREAL prices on the industrial section of the stock exchange remained irregularly lower today. Trading was fairly active.

Most changes were fractional and there were few features.

AT LONDON stock markets presented an irregular appearance with selective buying equally matched by profit-taking. The undertone remained firm.

There was a slight revival of interest in gilt-edged securities which established widespread small gains.

American dollar stocks were mainly higher but Canadians were lower.

WINNIPEG (CP)—A flurry of flax trading at the opening on the grain exchange today levelled off toward the close. Export and international accounts, however, maintained a steady interest.

Small lots of flax were reported sold to Japan.

B.C. Aid Asked On Family Court

Six-Point Program By Welfare Groups

A joint brief by three major welfare groups requests the provincial government to "bring together" the four Greater Victoria municipalities in establishing soon a unified Family and Juvenile Court.

The brief was prepared by the Community Chest, Community Welfare Council and the Family and Children's Service. It was to be presented to Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Welfare Minister Wesley Black last week but the ministers canceled an interview.

B.C. HELP

The brief included the appeal for provincial help to establish a Family Court here among six recommendations. Other recommendations asked:

1. More institutional facilities for boys and girls be developed to relieve overcrowding at the industrial schools and to provide more specialized treatment;
2. That existing institutions, such as the Woodlands School for mentally retarded children, "be given adequate staff to enable them to admit all children requiring institutional care";
3. That all juvenile courts be "adequately staffed" by trained probation officers with standards set by the provincial government;
4. That the provincial probation branch be allowed to encourage municipalities to meet provincial standards and, where necessary, to provide the probation service for municipalities;
5. A special grant to enable the Family and Children's Service to build several cottage units for care and rehabilitation of seriously maladjusted children who are not suitable for foster homes, and a grant to cover operating expenses of the program.

Driver 'Fair' After Car Crashes Bush

Saanich motorist Norman William Scott, 24, of 12 Regina, is in "fair" condition under observation for head injuries received when his car crashed into the bush off Interurban Road today.

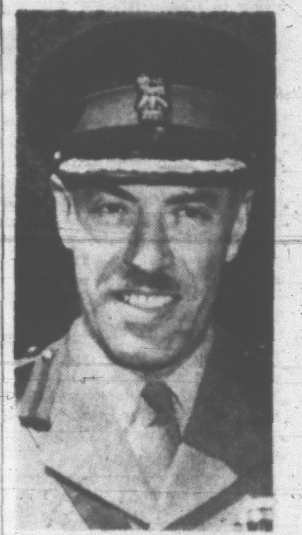

Scott was taken by Saanich police to St. Joseph's Hospital after the accident at 8.30 a.m.

Police said Scott was alone, driving south on Interurban when apparently he lost control of the car, which left the road and landed in the bush, causing about $200 damage.

CHILD HURT

Two-year-old Christine Plaxton, 1157 Balmoral, was discharged from Jubilee Hospital after treatment for a head cut and abrasions, received when she was thrown from a car driven by her uncle, Alfred Marshman, 1156 Balmoral, at Kings and Blackwood Monday at 4.30 p.m.

The car was in collision with one driven by Herbert C. Harris, 1015 Cook, causing the first vehicle to go out of control, glance off a fire hydrant, over a sidewalk and two concrete retaining walls onto the property of Douglas Lyall, 2500 Blackwood, with slight damage to the lawn and shrubs.

Green Light For Paving 32 Streets

Saanich council today got the green light from hundreds of property owners in scattered parts of the municipality to go ahead with its five-year $50,000 road improvement program.

They approved a council initiated local improvement program to pave 32 gravel roads. Costs to residents on roads to be paved will be about 20 cents a foot, paid over five years.

The gravel road paving program was only opposed by residents on five streets: Gordon Head Road, Roy Road, Smuggler's Cove Road, Shore Road and Raymond Road.

FIRST TIME The program designed to bring many gravel roads up to standard is the first of its type to be initiated by the council.

Saanich earlier this year notified property owners on 37 streets that it planned to pave or partly pave their respective roads unless they (householders) petitioned against the street improvement program.

More than 90 per cent of the residents involved did not oppose the scheme.

Reeve George Chatterton said the paving program will do much to reduce the municipality's road maintenance costs.

Roads to be paved or partly paved: Lockside Drive, Abbey Road, Gloria Road, Baker Street, Baron Place, Cedarling Road, Diamond Street, Fairburn Road, Ferrie Road, Filmer Road, Garkil Road, Grandview Drive, Greenridge Crescent, Ridgeway and Tulsa Drive, Greenlands Road, Kenneth Street, Lakeview Road, Londonderry Road, Martha Crescent, Simon Road, McBriar Avenue, Mount Baker View Road, Pendine Place, Schofield Place, Sonria Place, St. Peter's Road and Ventura Road.

ASK The TIMES

Q—Could you please tell me where or why the saying a person is "in Dutch" originated? V.C.

A—in a number of phrases the adjective "Dutch" has an opprobrious or humorous application, possibly in consequence of the long struggle for supremacy of the seas waged by England against the Netherlands in the 17th century, and in part also due to the traditional (but not correct) association of the Dutch with boorishness or lack of polish. Thus we have Dutch courage, Dutch treat, Dutch uncle, and "in Dutch," plus others.

Q—Will you please tell me what an open-end second mortgage is? C.R.

A—It is a mortgage without a maturity date on it; one keeps paying installments until the mortgage runs itself out.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

You might not think it but Sir Thomas Beecham, the peppery British symphony conductor, is a first-rate airplane passenger.

My authority for this is Capt. O. P. Jones, veteran BOAC pilot, who has been visiting Victoria on a world speaking tour.

"I once flew him across Britain in a thick, soupy fog," the captain said, "and he sang at the top of his voice all the way. 'I always sing when I'm scared,' he told me."

Capt. Jones confided that he preferred Sir Thomas' orchestral music to his singing, but it was nice having such a cheerful passenger.

The two are somewhat alike. Both have trim pointed white beards and a considerable air of authority.

Talking of look-alikes, have you ever noticed the resemblance between Sir Winston Churchill and Judge George McPhee, who has retired here after many years on the bench in Regina?

Like Sir Winston, too, the judge is acclaimed as a brilliant after-dinner speaker.

The day before he died, Gerald R. Coghlin, MBE, asked me to find a good home for the two Angora cats he kept at his cheerful home at 3190 Beach Drive.

An advertisement duly appeared in our classified columns and there were more than 40 replies. But poor Mr. Coghlin did not live to receive them.

His friend, Mrs. Susy Zurcher, who had been visiting him from her home in Switzerland, took care of all inquiries and chose a suitable home for the cats.

She leaves Victoria today to accompany Mr. Coghlin's body to England, where, according to his last wish, he will be buried beside his wife's grave at Horsham, Sussex.

One night last week an Indian handcuffed to a Mountie boarded a plane at Udeleuf bound for Vancouver. As they stepped into the darkened aircraft, a smiling young pilot approached and in courteous tones inquired: "Are you two gentlemen travelling together?"

Ever talk to a man operating a air hammer? I tried it on Government Street Monday and the conversation went something like this:

"Hello (kik, kik, kik) haven't seen you for a (kik, kik, kik)."

"No, I've been away in (kik, kik, kik); see you're still writing for the (kik, kik, kik)."

"Yes, I was (kik, kik) wondering if you'd like me to (kik, kik, kik)."

"Whaaaaat?"

"I said I was (kik, kik, kik). Oh, it doesn't matter a (kik). See you further—I mean later."

LAWYER OTTAWA-BOUND IN BID TO SAVE CONDEMNED SLAYER

Defence counsel George Gregory left for Ottawa today to talk with Justice Department officials with a view to commutation of the death sentence for Leo Mantha, 31, sentenced to be hanged at Oakalla Prison April 28.

Mantha, a tugboat worker, stabbed AB Aaron Jenkins at HMCS Naden Sept. 6.

Family solicitor A. R. Russ was at the prison today for talks with Mantha.

"We only hope that the officials will extend mercy and commute the sentence," he said.

Tree Farm Area Biggest Concern

Hearing of a tree farm licence application by Canadian Forest Products Ltd. opened today before Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston in the Legislative Buildings.

The licence area is in the Nimpkish Valley area on northern Vancouver Island. Granting of the licence was recommended to the government by former forestry adviser Gordon Sloan prior to his death in January. Mr. Williston is carrying out forestry hearings until a successor is appointed.

Conservation, B.C. Federation of Fish and Game Clubs, MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. and Vancouver Island Forest Industries. The opposing briefs are mainly concerned with boundaries of the tree farm licence area.

Mr. Campbell, concerned with the pattern of up-Island settlement and development, is proposing the licence be held up until an overall highway plan in the north is completed. He also asks that a regional planning council be established to ensure private industry does not obtain privilege which would interfere with settlement and communication.

Mr. Williston advised the hearing he was not considering opposition against the principle of tree farm licences but only the merits or demerits of the particular application.

Civil Defence Chiefs Plan Ottawa Talks

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and B.C. civil defence co-ordinator Brig. G. A. McCarter will be in Ottawa Friday for a meeting on civil defence matters with Health Minister J. W. Monteith.

It is considered likely that CD costs will be discussed, together with administration details.

They will be away from B.C. headquarters for Co-operation III, Canada's third national CD exercise which starts at 8 a.m. Friday and lasts 24 hours.

100 WORKERS

Control centre for B.C., on Keating-Cross Road, will be manned by close to 100 key CD personnel working in three shifts.

Object will be to train staffs and test communications.

Highlight of the exercise will be a test of the national attack warning system, a direct communications network between air defence command headquarters at St. Hubert, Que., and target city headquarters across Canada.

Ignoring Siren Brings $30 Fine

Herbert C. Knibbs, 1029 Oliphant, was fined $30 for failing to heed a siren when he pleaded guilty to the charges in city police court today.

Police said Knibbs drove at 60-65 miles an hour between Cook and Cedar Hill on Hillside, then when police sounded a warning he kept going and was not pulled over for a considerable distance.

Smith Quiet As Deadline Arrives

Deadline for Victoria MLA J. Donald Smith to file a statement of claim supporting his writ against the city's off-street parking and man project arrived today.

No pleadings had been received at City Hall by noon. There was speculation that the city would grab the initiative Wednesday if the documents did not arrive today.

It could do this by filing notice of motion to ask that Mr. Smith's writ be struck off the Supreme Court Registry, in effect cancelling the suit.

However, this would be a technical victory and would not prevent Mr. Smith from starting another action against the $1,000,000 bylaw.

Mr. Smith, a former alderman, issued the writ April 1 seeking a court judgment throwing out the city project as illegal. It culminated an intensive campaign against the ratepayer-approved decision to set up a civic parking garage on View along with pedestrian malls.

31 HANGOUTS FOR CITY'S 'LIGHT BRIGADE'

City lighting superintendent Kenneth Reid today bitterly criticized vandals who break street-light globes and bulbs with stones, BB and even .22 guns.

"There are 31 locations, spread throughout the city, where street lights have been broken, and that's only a partial list of the damage," he said.

"That damage alone represents the loss of $500. That's why city costs are going up."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Hospital authorities this morning issued their annual warning to parents against allowing children to eat the poisonous laburnum seeds.

The toxic seeds are contained in small pods which look like miniature pea pods and seem to be a favorite food of the youngsters.

The trees are common all over the city and last year's seeds are also dangerous.

Children eating them can become violently ill and deaths have been known to occur.

City public works committee today recommended that Esquimalt be allowed to set up a water bill collection office in its municipal hall if the municipality will pay the cost of the service.

The committee dropped its earlier opposition to the service when it learned that the cost would be borne by Esquimalt.

City public works committee today recommended to council the expenditure of $847 to install three tall piles at the Inner Harbor yacht float to carry a lighting system for the dock.

Talk Can Cure
Nervous Ills

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic
and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

My awareness of the part the emotions play in physical illness began long before I received my medical degree. It started in the days when I was riding around with my doctor-father as he made his calls.

Because I was mature for my age and he was a born teacher, I quickly learned much about the philosophy and idealism of the practice of medicine. Dad was one of those old-time family doctors whom people loved because he became their friend as well as their physician. He was the sort of man who thought nothing of getting up in the middle of the night and fighting his way through a tropical hurricane in order to treat some woman who was too poor ever to be able to pay him a fee.

When I started practice, I soon saw that my main interest was going to be in the nervous, mental and spiritual problems of my patients.

In the last 30 years, I have become almost a psychiatrist. I have had to, because at least a third of my patients need much reassurance, they need hope and cheer and understanding of their illness, and they need encouragement, so that they can pick themselves

I might note that I have learned most of the psychiatry I know from my patients and not from books. I have kept listening to what the patients tell me of their worries and fears and anxieties. Without any preconceived or Freudian ideas I asked people what they thought and feared, and what they told me I recorded and studied.

I found that even the man who comes with a cancer or a bad heart often needs encouragement and reassurance and instruction in living far more than he needs medicine or an operation. Often the woman with a silent (symptomless) gallstone or a fibroid on her womb needs only to talk out with me her sorrow over a mentally retarded daughter, or a delinquent son, or an alcoholic husband.

Early I found I had to become something of a psychiatrist if I was ever to help those hundreds of people who came to me, feeling that they had been stopped short of good health, success, or happiness by some mental or psychic handicap, the exact nature of which was not clear to them.

Many of these people felt that their failure to find contentment had been due to bad luck; they said the breaks had been against them, but some

Jobless
Reduced
To 525,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment in Canada declined for the second straight month between late February and late March.

Number of persons with jobs also rose slightly during the same period, government figures showed today.

Reversing the usual seasonal trend, unemployed persons dropped to 525,000 at March 21, from 537,000 a month earlier. It was a decline of 72,000 from the post-war high of 597,000 in March, 1958.

Besides those without jobs, there were an estimated 29,000 on temporary layoff at March 21 compared with 33,000 a month earlier and 39,000 in March of last year.

MORE HOLD JOBS

The total with jobs moved up to 5,552,000 from 5,547,000. This compared with 5,401,000 a year previously.

The drop in unemployment was associated with a slight decline in the labor force. Although it amounted to only 7,000—from 6,084,000 to 6,077,000—it was in contrast with an expansion that usually takes place at this time of year.

In the past five years, the labor force has increased by an average of 22,000 between February and March.

Along with the figures of estimated outright unemployment, the government released labor department statistics showing that at March 19

Move Starts
Into New Gov't House

Secretariat office of Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross was being moved into new Government House today, but the rest of the mansion is not ready for occupancy.

The office, which has been located in an adjoining building since the fire which destroyed Government House in 1957, is located on the main floor near the main entrance.

Telephone switchboard was also to go into operation today but it was not definite when the lieutenant-governor would take up residence. He may not move from his Empress Hotel suite until next week.

Carpenters are hurrying the vice-regal residence to completion and the servants' quarters are now ready. Trucks have been delivering furniture, rugs and draperies. The kitchen is complete. A new feature, an elevator, is in operation.

"VIVIDLY MODERN"

Although no inspection of the premises has yet been permitted, it is understood the wall decor in the new Government House is "vividly modern."

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant has not announced a completion date, nor set a formal opening for the building, which is now estimated to cost about $1,500,000.

When it is completed, the structure will be turned over to the provincial secretary's department for maintenance.
